Letter from the Resident in Mysore re 991 dated 21st March 1893. 224-92

FOR ORDERS.

Papers regarding
Col. Bowen's case submitted.

Col. Bowen raised a similar question with respect to his furlough pay, and he was told that it was impossible to say what temporary steps he might have received had he remained in Madras.
This referred to steps in the rank of Chief Engineer. vide Co. re 378 W of 6 Febry.
1893.

In the Govt of India letter printed with Co. re 8 W of 6 January 1887, it was ruled that if an officer in foreign employ becomes becomes entitled to temporary promotion and would receive it were he on the substantive strength, his foreign employers should be informed of the fact for such action as they may think fit.

So long as Colonel Bowen held rank below Suptg. Engineer 1st class, the Mysore Govt. was informed on each occasion on which he might have received temporary promotion to a higher class as Suptg. Engineer. After he became Suptg. Engineer 1st class permanent on the Madras list, no further intimation of the kind was made to Mysore, because appointments to the Chief Engineer classes are made by selection.

On Colonel Pennycook's departure on leave, the Mysore Govt. was informed that if Lt. Col. Campbell had remained in Madras, he would have been promoted to to Suptg. Engineer 1st class temporary rank. The effect of this is that Col. Campbell gets the pay of the rank next above Suptg. Engineer 1st class while the temporary vacancy lasts.

If the Government thinks fit, it is open to it to inform Mysore, under the Govt. of India ruling, that Col. Campbell would, if he had remained here, receive the temporary rank of Chief Engineer 1st or 2nd class (as the case may be) on Mr. Walsh's retirement.

There is one with Lt. Campbell's desires were sent to Mysore and changed and down. He was to get the pay off the next higher grade of Lt. E. which I believe was 2^d grade. I don't think there any claim on Mysore for more than this. His case differs from Lt.
Bowling, who however never got Chief Engineer's pay. I would reply that as the app't of Chief Engineer is made entirely by selection it is impossible to say whether or not Lt. C. would have been selected had he remained in Mysore.

Case 28244

For orders.

So Col. Campbell's permanent position will not be affected by Mr. Walcher's retirement.

Promotion to Ch. is made by selection, but if Lt. Col. Campbell had remained in Mexico, he would have been the Senior Supt. on duty, & if promoted, he would have been Senior Chief Supt. 2nd Class temporary rank.

Ch

24/3/93

What was the decision in Col. Wrenn's case? I think it was that the highest pay he could draw was that of one grade higher than P.E. 2 Class - i.e. the pay of Lt. Col. to be. The question of his possible promotion

+ vide letter under 67028 27/4.11.92.

Temporary promotion to a higher class as Supt. 1st Class. When he became Supt. 1st Class, his position in the promotion list was made to supersede his position as Lt. Col. Campbell's position in the selection list.

On the date of his departure on leave, the position of Supt. 1st Class was vacant. Campbell had remained in Mexico, he would have been promoted to Supt. 1st Class temporary rank. This is what Col. Campbell gets the pay of the rank of Supt. 1st Class, while the temporary position is vacant.

If the Supt. position is open to it, it is open to it to inform anyone, and the S. & F. rules, but Col. Campbell would be in the same position as the S. & F. 2nd Class, receiving the pay of the S. & F. 2nd Class, on the basis of Walcher's retirement.

Col. Bowen raised the question with respect to his furlough pay, & he was told that it was impossible to pay what he ~~was~~ states he might have received had he remained in India.

His request to stop in the name of Chief Secy.

On the 2. of J. letter printed with So. in 8/2 of 6. 1. 87. it was ruled that if an officer in foreign employment, entitled to temporary promotion would receive it were he on the substantive strength, his foreign employment should be informal of the fact for such action as they may think fit.

Salary as Colonel Bowen held rank below

Super. Secy. I class, the Mysore fort. was informed on each occasion on which he might have received.

Note for W. Secy re
the Secy's remarks

Secy. Col. Campbell, on his transfer to Mysore, was Super. Secy. 2. class permanent on the Madras list - He went to Mysore on the pay of the next higher grade, & therefore drew pay as Super. Secy
1. class.

On Col. Pennyman's
departure on furlough, the Mysore fort. was informed that if Colonel Campbell had remained in Madras he would have been promoted to S.S. 1. class & that better he is now probably drawing the pay of Chief Secy. 3. class, but no notification of the increase has been received in this Dept.

Before Col. Bowen left Mysore, he was Super. Secy. 1. class but managers in the Madras list, & draw from the Mysore Govt. the pay of Chief Engr 3 class.

note with reference to the Hon. Member's receipt of 3 April on note for orders on account no 2844.

Lieut. Colonel
Campbell, on his transfer to Mysore, was Super Super 2 Class permanent on the Madras list. He went to Mysore on the day of the next higher grade, & therefore drew pay as Super Super 1 Class.

On Colonel Pennington's departure on furlough, the Mysore Lt. was informed that if Col.
Campbell had remained
have been promoted to Super Super 1 Class temporarily. On that letter he is now probably drawing the pay of the next higher grade, i.e.

of Chief Engr 3rd Class, but no notification of the increase has been received in this Dept.

Before Colonel
Bowen left Mysore, he was Supy Engr 1st Class permanent on the Madras list, and drew from the Mysore Govt.
the pay of Chief Engr 3rd Class.

This note is
