work in hand and complete it as early as possible.

4.

I heard nothing further from the General Superintendent till the other day when I received from him an advice of transfer (N^o 3/14 dated 30th April 1894) debiting this Division with Rs 583 on account of charges incurred in putting up new punkahs in the ground floor of the General Hospital and connecting the same with the existing punkah pulling machinery.

5.

As the above debit has been accepted and adjusted by me in my supplemental accounts for March 1894, I have the honor to request that you will kindly obtain the orders of Government authorising the Examiners to pass the charge in the absence of a sanctioned estimate.

I have the honor to be

Sir,

Enclosures

The Senior Medical Officer General Hospital, Madras, in his No. 1994 dated 20th February 1894, asked the General Superintendent P.W. Workshops whether there would be any difficulty in moving the punkahs from the wards on the 3rd floor to the ground floor where they were much more needed.

2. The General Superintendent P.W. Workshops in forwarding with his letter No. 180.A. dated 23rd March 1893 copies of the correspondence that took place between himself & the Senior Medical Officer on the above subject, informed me, that the putting up of the punkahs in the ground floor will cost about Rs 150.

3. In my reply No. 663 dated 7th June 1893 I asked the General Superintendent to put the
