G.O., dated 6th December 1890, No. 3245 W., Public Works.

ORDER—dated 5th September 1894, No. 2206 W., Public Works.

In paragraph 59, chapter XIV, volume II of the Public Works Code, it is laid down that a formal allotment of funds is not necessary in the case of works continued from a previous year and likely to be completed in the current year with an expenditure not exceeding Rs. 500. The equilibrium between the budget grant and the expenditure is not likely to be disturbed by this procedure in the case of Imperial and Provincial funds, as such small excesses will usually be counterbalanced by savings on other items. In the case of works executed from funds other than Imperial and Provincial, the excesses are not likely to be thus counterbalanced, and it was directed in the order quoted above that this code rule should not apply to such expenditure, a formal appropriation of funds being necessary whether the work is a new, or an incomplete, one. As it is desirable to maintain the local ruling notwithstanding the introduction of the Government of India Code, it is now accordingly revived and should be acted on by Superintending Engineers.
