Query on the above

The C.A. does not support his proposal by reasons. If the Establishment Contribution is to be waived, it may be done on the ground that the Dramatic Society, though spending their own money on alterations, have no rights of property in the building. The Expenditure is there to the advantage of Govt. and not of themselves.

I think the contribution may be waived on the distinct understanding that the Dramatic Society have no right of property in the building: but not otherwise. C.W.B.
