SIR,

As some doubt exists as to the method of calculating the pension admissible to Civil Engineers of the Public Works Department subject to the rules in Chapter XXIX, Section iii, Civil Service Regulations, who may retire on the special terms offered in Government of India, Public Works Department, Resolution No. 2873 G., dated 2nd November 1893, I am directed to state that the ordinary pension is calculated on the scale prescribed in Article 712 (b), Civil Service Regulations, and is subject to the maximum therein laid down. A special pension is added equal in amount to one-third of the ordinary pension admissible. Thus, if an officer has fourteen years qualifying service, his ordinary pension would be $\frac{2}{3}$ ths of his average emoluments, but not exceeding Rs. 2,600 per annum. A special pension is added equal to one-third of the sum obtained by this calculation.

I have the honour to be,
