FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper:—

Resolution of the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department (Accounts—Rates of Exchange), dated Calcutta, the 12th January 1894, No. 121-A.

Read—the following despatch from the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India, to the Government of India, dated 7th December 1893, No. 243 (Financial):—

My attention has been drawn to two remittances included in the Madras rolls for the weeks ended the 3rd and 10th of October last, from Surgeon-Majors S. H. Dantra and N. Chatterjee respectively. Both remittances were converted at 1*s.* $4\frac{3}{4}$d. the rupee.

2. I presume that these remittances were allowed because these officers were not entitled, as Europeans or Eurasians not domiciled in India, to the exchange compensation allowance granted under your notification, dated the 18th of August 1893, No. 3624-A.

3. It is, therefore, necessary to define the privileges, as regards remittances and furlough pay, of such officers, whether natives of India or Europeans or Eurasians domiciled in India.

4. As regards remittances, I consider that they should not be deprived of any privileges which they possessed when the above-mentioned notification was issued, since such a deprivation would be inconsistent with the terms of contract of service referred to in paragraph 3 of the notification. For the current financial year such remittances may be allowed at 1*s.* $4\frac{3}{4}$d. the rupee, as was temporarily permitted by my despatch, dated the 15th of June 1893, No. 115, but, after the 1st of April next, it is necessary to revert to the rate of exchange for the adjustment of financial transactions between the British and Indian Governments. In all future contracts the right to make remittances through the Government will be omitted, except in special cases where it may seem desirable to retain it.

5. Passing to the rate of exchange at which furlough allowances stated in rupees are issued from the Home Treasury, paragraph 4 of your notification above referred to does not limit the rate of 1*s.* 6*d.* the rupee to European and Eurasian officers not domiciled in India; and in my despatch, dated the 7th of September last, No. 181, it was stated generally, at the end of paragraph 4, that "Furlough pay issued from the Home Treasury will also be granted at that rate" (1*s.* 6*d.*). The furlough pay of natives of India and of Europeans and Eurasians domiciled in India will, therefore, when stated in rupees, be issued in this country at the privileged rate of 1*s.* 6*d.* the rupee.

Ordered, that copies of the despatch be forwarded to all the Departments of the Government of India, to the several Local Governments and Administrations, to the Comptroller and Auditor-General, to all Accountants-General and Comptrollers, and to the Heads of Departments under this department, for information.

3. In para 5 of your report on the Capital and Revenue accounts of Irrigation buildings (G.O No 3933 W dy 23rd November 1893 page 27) you stated that the sanction of the Local Govt was necessary to the grant of free quarters to the individuals named, but it is presumed the Govt of India was meant vide Rule III, para 28, chapter XI India Code.

4. The Hospital Assistant at Thekady was named in para 5 of your report above quoted, and he is included in the present statement. Under section ii Appendix C, Madras Code, Hospital assistants are entitled to free quarters and no special sanction seems necessary. The same remark applies to the assistant apothecary at Periyar, mentioned in para 5 of your report, but not included in the statement now submitted.
