PROCEEDINGS OF THE MADRAS GOVERNMENT.

Read the following paper:—

From the Inspector General of Jails dated 5th February 1894, No. 650.

I have the honor to forward a letter No. 1524 of 3rd December 1893, from the late Acting District Magistrate Nilgiris to your address.

2. With reference to the present state of the Subjail I enclose copy of the remarks which I recorded in the Inspection Register on the 16th October 1893. It will be seen that a part altogether from the closing of the Wellington Subjail, improvement and increased accommodation at the Coonoor Subjail are urgently necessary. The Inspector General of Police has also recorded the opinion (vide enclosure 1 to District Magistrate's letter) that the existing wards are exceedingly bad, and that something must be done to improve the present state of things.

3. Immediately after inspecting the Subjail, I addressed the District Magistrate direct on the subject, and he then sent me Colonel Parsons' note and proposals. I replied, I informed him that I approved of the suggested extension provided that the new wards are built on the standard

Plan.

and are large enough to accommodate the estimated population, and provided that a new latrine is built.

In paragraph 3 of Mr Wolfe Murray's letter, it is stated that the average monthly population of the Coonoor jail during the past 5 years has been 12 and that the Wellington Subjail 5, the estimated population to be provided for at the combined Subjail at Coonoor being

17. As the figures furnished by the District Magistrate appeared to be erroneous, as reference to him was made and this has elicited the fact that the figures shown in his letter of the 8th December referred to admissions. An index statement of the daily average population has now been furnished which shows that the daily average number of prisoners in the Coonoor and Wellington Subjails during the year ending 1893 has been 2.07 and 1.13 respectively, making a total of 3.20. The statement, however, also shows that in both Subjails the population rises to an average of 7 and 8 for periods which have extended to three months so that accommodation for 15 prisoners should be provided.

For this population, the addition of ^{three} new wards, and the modification of the existing wards in the manner shown in the note by Colonel Porters, will be sufficient.
New wards should be built in accordance with the standard plan for Deputy Tahsildar's bungalows, each accommodating 4 prisoners. A new latrine and small cookshed are also necessary. Sanction for the preparation by the Public Works Department of an estimate for these works is solicited.

Order of 20th February 1894, No. 433. S. W.

The necessary orders for the preparation of plans and estimate for enlarging the Coonoor Subjail and for constructing a small cookshed and a latrine in connection therewith will issue in the Public Works Department.
