Sir,

With reference to your No 1815 I beg to give the following information:

C. Alford Father European.
Father's side

C. Alford. Grandfather.- English.
M. Alford Grandmother - English.

(Christian name) M. Orme —. Mother European.
Mother's side

J. Orme —. Grandfather. English
(Christian name - Stackelberg) Grandmother. German.

From this I come under the head of "domiciled European" consequently my claim is undisputed - ¶ rule 4 states that military subordinates are entitled to compensation and the Rgm Circ: states that domiciled as well as non-domiciled Europeans are entitled to Compensation compensation Allowance, I beg you will be good enough to resubmit my claims to the exchange Compensation allowance.

I admit being born and educated in India and after entering the service I was on the point of being called out for active Service on two occasions and being still effective stand the same chance at any moment; this should prove that I cannot be considered a domicile of India.
I have been to Burmah with my parents who were all Military people and descendants of the same and would therefore request this application be favourably considered and represented
I may further add that I am likely to have to make remittances to my people who are all at home in England and should have gone home with my corps only that I had to remain out here to help them; Under these circumstances I am in hopes my claim will prove Successful.
