RESOLUTION.

Calcutta, the 1st March 1894.

RESOLUTION.—The Local Governments are no doubt aware that by reason of the serious fall in the exchange value of the rupee during the past two years, the Government of India find themselves face to face with a serious deficit in their Revenue Estimates. This deficit forces the Governor General in Council to consider all possible measures of economy and to raise the question of increasing the revenue by new taxation.

2. The Government of India are constrained under these circumstances to search for relief from present embarrassment in economies within the region of the Provincial accounts as well as in the Imperial section, and to raise again the question of contributions from Provincial resources. The Governor General in Council admits most fully that every administrative consideration makes it advisable that the expenditure of the existing Provincial balances should be left in the hands of the Provincial Governments, and that even from the financial point of view it may be urged that only two years have passed since the assignments were revised, and that during these two years a portion of the burden of exchange has, under the orders for exchange compensation allowance, been thrown upon Provincial balances. But the imperious necessity for imposing new taxation obliges the Government of India first to exhaust all available methods of increasing the resources; and this necessity is the only justification they can put forward for so soon making a practical revision of "contracts" made only two years ago, and calling in balances which the Local Governments might legitimately claim as pledged to them for the purpose of administrative improvements.

3. The Government of India have examined the estimates sent in by the various Local Governments, with a view of determining what amounts these Governments might spare either out of their surplus balances over and above the prescribed minimum, or by reducing to a minimum their proposals for expenditure on new Public Works, or similarly possible economies. Without raising any question of the advisability of the expenditure which the several Local Governments will by these retrenchments be obliged to abandon, the Government of India, so far as they can judge from the figures before them, impose an equal burden upon the several Local Governments by taking the contributions in the following list, namely,—

	R		R
Central Provinces	4,30,000	Madras	3,00,000
Burma	19,50,000	Bombay	3,60,000
Assam	2,50,000
Bengal	3,00,000
North-Western Provinces	5,00,000
		TOTAL	42,00,000

From the Government of the Punjab it is not deemed advisable to take any contribution.

4. In the Estimates which have already been received, these contributions will be entered by reducing the final balances of 31st March 1895 to the Provincial minimum, and by reducing the Public Works grants. The Local Governments, however, will understand that this distribution of the entry in the Estimates is provisional only.

5. The Governor General in Council, before making these orders final, invites the Local Governments to submit for consideration any points they wish to urge with reference to their ability to meet the demand without drawing upon their prescribed minimum balances. His Excellency in Council is confident that, under the circumstances explained, the several Local Governments will use their best endeavour to meet the requirements of the general financial position; and although he is conscious that the promise can, under present circumstances, be of little value, he will, if during the currency of the present contract circumstances sufficiently improve, restore to the Provincial Governments the balances which he now, by enforcing a limitation of their normal expenditures, withdraws from them. It is especially requested that all replies may be in the hands of the Government of India by Wednesday, March 14th, at the latest.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the Resolution be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations (except Ajmere and Coorg), to the Comptroller and Auditor General, and to all Accountants General and Comptrollers (except Comptroller, Post Office and Comptroller, Hyderabad).

J. F. FINLAY,
Secretary to the Government of India.
