

No. 595

Superintending Engineer's Office,

3RD CIRCLE,

Bellary 27th May 1895.

FROM

C. H. J. Norfor Esq.

SUPERINTENDING ENGINEER,

IIIRD CIRCLE,

TO

THE Chief Engineer,

P. W. D.

Madras.

Sir,

Enclosures.

With reference to G. O. No. $\frac{2042W.}{8-8-93}$ & $\frac{445W.}{25-2-95}$

I have the honour to inform you that after personal inspection I find that the fixing together of the broken pieces of the God, referred to in para 3 of letter No. $\frac{286}{13-7-93}$ from the Superintendent, Archaeological Survey, cannot be done by this Department. The pieces have been unearthed, but there are hundreds of them of various sizes, and it would require a skilled atomist and a careful sculpturist to do the work.

2. The Exec. Engineer, Bellary Division reports, for instance, that he had a discussion with the Sub Div^l Officer as to whether one piece formed part of the god's stomach or cranium, and though the matter was referred to an eminent Surgeon who was inspecting the Hampi Ruins at the time, it was not decided.

I have the honor to be,

Sir

Your most obedient servant,

C. H. J.

Suptg. Engineer, III Circle.

Sir,

Adverting to reference
Department, No. 1209, dated 7th June 1895.
honour to report the intention was, should any of the fragments of the limbs be large enough, and fairly perfect, they might be set in position so as to complete the outline of the monolith. If the pieces are numerous, and all are so small that no object would be attained by attaching them, they should be collected and laid out near the image.
