Extract of a letter from the Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department, to the Adjutant General in India, No 965. a dated 8th March 1895.

x x x
In the case of recommendations for special promotion on account of distinguished service in the field, the General or other officer Commanding the Field Force submits his recommendations to the Adjutant General in India, and His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief consults Heads of Departments before submitting the recommendations to the Military Department for the sanction of the Government of India. This procedure does not appear to require alteration. x x x x x x x x x

Recommendations for promotions on account of distinguished service, other than in the field, have hitherto been usually made by Heads of Departments, and submitted by them direct to the Government of India in the Military Department, who have consulted the Commander-in-Chief before recommending them to the Secretary of State.

In future, however, these recommendations should be made, in the first instance, by Heads of Departments in each command to Lieutenant Generals, who will submit them with their remarks to the Adjutant General in India.

His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief will then consult the Commissary General-in-Chief, Director General of Ordnance, or
