inconvenience, and also the staff now engaged on the Penguin Project
is not free by the completion of that work, ample employment will be found in the work of the Office of Commissioning
it.

I am further to point out that the present number of junior temporary engineers has never been worked
up to; at present only one (Mr E. H. Pym) is employed.

for ordinary work has been the cause of very serious inconvenience,
and when the staff now
employed in the Periyar Project is set free by the completion of that work, ample employment will be found for the whole of the officers — imposing it.

sanctioned number of our temporary engineers
to; at present only
(Mr. E.R. Logan)
is employed.
