Sir,

I have the honor to return all the correspondence sent with No. 3070 C dated 11th October 1894 and to report as under regarding the Residence of the Assistant Superintendent of Police at Nandyal.

2. The building is as stated by the Inspector General of Police an exceedingly uncomfortable place of abode and the rent, considering the accommodation given very high.

3. The original site plan showing all the buildings arranged in the same plot of ground was according to the Executive Engineer signed on 12th October 1889 by the Inspector General of Police. The bungalow was built nearer to the road than is shown in this plan with the approval of the then Superintending Engineer. The building of the Hospital near the bungalow was doubtless a mistake, but apparently it was so shown on the above mentioned site plan.

4. The Chief fault of the building is the want of a basement. All the evils complained of, dampness, liability to be flooded and the necessity for drains in the compound are all due to this.

5. The suggestions made in the concluding para of the letter from the Inspector General of Police should I think be acted on viz:—

(a) That the building should be given up to the District Board for use as a Rest House.

(b) That a new residence for the Assistant Superintendent of Police should be built on the standard plan on higher ground and not on black cotton soil.

(c) That rent for the existing building should be charged at Rs. 25 per mensem until the new house is ready.

6. I regret very much that I did not inspect this building when I was at Nandyal last month, but I did not then know that the building was still complained of. I was under the impression that the dampness had been removed by the excavation of the drains in the compound.

Copy of a Note by His Excellency the Governor dated 6 January 1895:—

Before going further in this matter, I should like to ask the I. G. of Police, if an Asst: Supdt of Police is necessary in the Kurnool District. As far as my experience goes, we always have a number of districts (many of them important ones) without an Assistant Supdt at all and I cannot help thinking that Kurnool may do without an Asst. Supdt far better than many other districts.

to do properly. Quite recently this has been increased by the transfer to Police control of the ghaut taliaries and it is in contemplation to introduce a regular village police which will increase greatly the work of the Superintendent.

The present appears to me a most inopportune time for carrying out the proposed reduction. In the last Administration report the Police Administration of the District has been severely commented on. Instead therefore of weakening the District staff it should be strengthened as far as Nandyal specially I think it most necessary to have an Assistant Superintendent, the charge is a very important one and will assuredly suffer if the office be abolished.

6. There is a large Mahommedan population in the district and this is a fact which should always be borne in mind in connection with Police administration. The proximity of the Nizam's frontier and the serious riots which occurred in Kurnool only a short time back should also be remembered.

7. I have endeavoured to show that there is far more work than one man can be expected there is often the simultaneous occurrence of grave crime in places far apart. It is most necessary to have more than one officer available to investigate them. Again in an unhealthy district the Superintendent occasionally falls temporarily ill, and an assistant should always be at hand to take his place. Even apart from these considerations it is always well for a Superintendent to have an ~~assistant~~ European assistant with whom he can consult and to whom he can refer matters. In the case of it is most valuable to have the assistance of a European officer. Another peculiarity of the district is the existence of a wild tribe called the Chenchus. These men occasionally give trouble and once nearly killed an Assistant Superintendent of Police. The natives are afraid of them and during the festivals of Sreesylum and Ahobilam they levy blackmail with impunity. They are fond of cattle lifting and are difficult to deal with.

5. In an extensive district like this

n a corner of the district without ailway communication.

Criminal gangs give considerable trouble. The Boyas are particularly criminal class and are very umerous in Pattikonda Taluq. urders and riots are frequent. iots occur between the right nd left hand castes or arise ut of land disputes. Where other districts the parties ould have recourse to the ourts, in this district they pply the more speedy remedy force. In all cases of riots

81 stations and it appears t me quite impossible to expe one man to inspect all these stations and maintain efficien administration, especially w as in this district the communications are very bad an the climate most unhealthy In the hot weather ~~the~~ the inspe is most trying and in the rain it is almost impossible to carts along in the black cotton tracts. The difficul is increased by the fact that the head quarters ar staff is necessary in some parts, and proves I think the inadvisability of abolishing existing offices.

Discipline and detection are particularly difficult in this district owing to the inferior qualities of station house officers and constables who are very backward in education.

3. The area of the district is 7024 square miles, the extreme length is 120 miles, and the greatest breadth 70 miles, scattered over this very large area are the cause of oppression or injustice to the people. The ~~conduct~~ Control of this large force is in hands of the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent and the efficiency and utility of the force depends very largely on the way in which this control is exercised. The work connected with the enforcement of discipline, drill, and detection has I believe greatly increased as has also office routine work and correspondence. These reasons would tend to show that an increase in the Superin

ming a valid reason for the abolition of the office in this District

2. The strength of the ~~office~~ force for this District is about 900 men equal about to a regiment of soldiers each of these men are armed with very considerable powers, are lowly paid and are scattered over a very large area. The inevitable result is that in numerous cases from corrupt or malicious motives these powers are abused or not exercised and are

Sir,

I have the honor to state, in reference to your Office Endorsement No. 388 dated 25th January 1895 that I am thoroughly opposed to the withdrawal of the Assistant Superintendentship of Police from the Kurnool district.

2. Apart from the general well founded belief that the force has not at present a sufficient complement of European Officers to supervise the extensive areas allotted to their respective charges, there are special conditions attached to this district which render the retention of an Assistant Superintendent most desirable, if not imperative.

3. The force, in which the Muhammadan element predominates, consists of over 900 men scattered over 81 Stations in the district. The Kurnool Muhammadan is unusually proud and bigoted and scorns the idea of education. The consequence is, that very few literate men of this caste are to be found. It goes without saying, that the more ignorant a policeman is, the more harmful factor he becomes in his relations with an un-learned Rustic population such as that of Kurnool. The supervising agency then must be strong and powerful, and ever watchful to repress acts of dishonesty, and oppression. If the position of the Superintendent of Police Kurnool be compared with that of the Commandant of a Native regiment, the great disadvantages under which the former labours will be at once apparent. While the number of men under command is about the same in both cases, discipline is facilitated for military officers by their system of centralisation, an advantage from which Police officers are debarred. Again, there are 5 or 6 officers in a regiment to assist in the enforcement of discipline, while the Police Superintendent has but one European to share his heavy responsibilities ~~responsibilities~~ -

4. The area of the district in square miles is 7514 against 5975 in Bellary and 5275 in Anantapur. - Roads are indifferent and few in number, and communication between the Western, eastern and north eastern portions of the district is difficult, the railway line passing too far East to be of much service to officers in inspecting Stations ~~to~~ due west or north west of Nandyal -

5. The Nizam's dominions form the northern boundary from which Sugalies and such like nomadic tribes make predatory incursions. They are a truculent race much addicted to dacoity.

The

The close proximity of this potentate's dominions to our own, coupled with the existence in our midst of the Banaganapalle Jaghir covering an area of 275 square miles, renders the capture of such depredators no easy matter. By crossing the frontier, they find an asylum in foreign territory, and thus easily evade the arm of the law.

6. The climate of the district is bad. At any time the District Superintendent might be temporarily "hors de Combat" through illness, when, if there were no Assistant, the official machinery would stop, and dire inconvenience follow.

7 Offences against the person and the public tranquillity are of frequent occurrence as evinced in the accompanying comparative statement for the last 5 years. Many of the cases of rioting are attributable to the strong inimical feelings that exist between the left and right hand castes.

8 The district is infested with criminal gangs of Wudders, Erukalis, and Yerichulas. In the local population the Boya class is numerically strong, and this caste is essentially a criminal one. Again the Chenchus, the aboriginal race of the Nallamalais, give the local authorities great trouble from time to time. They sweep down from their recesses in the hills, plunder grain in the lowlands, and return to their fastnesses with absolute impunity. The district Police stand in great awe of this class, and, unless a European officer be at hand to lead and encourage them to proceed in pursuit of such marauders, they will remain passive, and allow depredations to be committed without the exercise of any check or control.

9. The district is subject to frequent periods of famine, when its naturally rude population, impelled by the pangs of hunger, bursts forth into excesses of crime, for the suppression of which a strong European agency is absolutely necessary. No native agency at such a juncture, if not sufficiently supervised and controlled by European officers, could cope with these outbursts of crime. In times of distress, Kurnool town itself requires close watchfulness on the part of Superintendent. ~~the~~ The recent grain riots there, which necessitated the presence of native troops for many months of the year, furnish ample proof of the lawlessness of its population when the pinch of hunger seizes them. At such critical times, a Superintendent single handed would find himself powerless to cope with any troubles arising in remote parts of the district.

10. In conclusion, I would strongly submit that Kurnool, backward in every respect, backward in its means of communication, backward in its education, with a Police below the average in mental ability and acumen, is not a district that can afford to lose its Assistant Superintendent. The force, if bad now, will become rapidly worse if the European Element be in any way diminished. Its deterioration, so severely commented upon in a recent order of Government, is no doubt partly due to its deprivation for months together of the services of an Assistant Superintendent. The Superintendent had to look to every thing himself, and the task proved too much for him, to the serious detriment of the district.

11. The District Magistrate and I have met specially for the discussion of this matter, and he has kindly favoured me with his views in writing,[×] which I herewith send.

SIR,

Enclosures. (4)

I have the honor to reply to Endorsement, dated 21st January 1895, No 111, made on C. 166 Judicial Department.

2. With reference to His Excellency the Governor's question, I have the honor to say that I consider it very necessary to have an Assistant Superintendent of Police in Kurnool District.

3. I enclose a Statement showing the area, population, Strength of Police and amount of Crime in all districts. It will be clear from this Statement that Kurnool presents some marked features.

4. First the population although small is peculiar. A very considerable percentage of it consists of Muhammadans and the Muhammadans of Kurnool mixing as they do to a great extent with the Muhammadans of Hyderabad, form an element in the district which must be taken account of. It is true that they have been comparatively quiet for many years but should

...report on the necessity for placing an Asst. Supdt. at Nandyal. W 13 Jan

Certain Contingencies Come about, and the relations between the two races become Strained, we Should probably have more trouble in Kurnool than in any other district in the Presidency. There is a Substratum in the population along the Northern Frontier of Kurnool which may make itself felt at any moment. Besides this large body of Muhammadans, there is a considerable area of the district inhabited by Jungle tribes who require Special treatment and this part of the district is remote from the Head Quarters.

5. Another point in Kurnool is the Situation of the Head Quarter Station. A glance at the map of the district will Show how inconveniently Situated is the Superintendent for the work of inspection and for this reason alone, I think it would be most inadvisable to remove the possibility of being able at any moment to post an European Assistant in the South of the district. When it is recollected how prevalent Violent Crime was in Such a quiet district as South Arcot only a few years ago, it is impossible to be Sure that a district like Kurnool may not at any moment be Subject to a wave of Crime requiring great Vigilance and energy on the part of the Police. I need not remind the Government of the very heavy riot which took place in 1891 in Kurnool. An event Such as this gives the Superintendent very heavy work for a Considerable time and in a large district Such as Kurnool necessitates the presence of an Assistant to Carry on the ordinary work in the district. The Superintendent Could not possibly be expected to do it at Such a time.

6. A

(vide Rev. G.O. 95 of 18·2·95 printed.

6. A further peculiarity of Kurnool is its liability to drought and in Consequence to Sudden rises in the prices of the necessaries of life, a Contingency which at once gives rise to Crime. In times of distress there is probably more work for the Police than even two Superior officers can properly Supervise and it would be hopeless to expect one officer to be able to Cope with it Satisfactorily.

7. The area of the district is not only large but a great part of it is hilly and covered with jungles and inspection in these parts takes much time and Should be done leisurely. The recent prevalence of timber Smuggling in parts of the district Should not have escaped notice So long had the Police done their work, and in many ways the Police work of Kurnool is not what it Should be and requires closer Supervision than can be given to it by one officer. It will be well to Send an Assistant to the district as Soon as one is available.

8. Looking at the existing Crime it will be Seen that murders and robberies are very heavy in th district almost as numerous as in Cuddapah. These heavy Crimes require very Close attention and personally I look upon it as of great importance that the European Divisional Officer Should visit the Scenes of all heavy Crime with promptness. With only one officer in charge of the district, this is however, impossible and in consequence partly of this, Crime has indeed been very badly handle in Kurnool for long past. If the present Supe intendent is to turn out the better results expected of him, he must Soon be assisted by another officer. For this reason among others I should be very sorry to see the Assistant removed from Kurnool at the present moment.

9. There is also another reason for always maintaining a second hand in the district, in that the district is often unhealthy. The Superintendent may be down with fever at any moment and incapacitated from doing work; at such a time the presence of an assistant Superintendent is very necessary.

10. I hope I have shown that although Kurnool from its small population may seem not to require an assistant Superintendent of Police as much as other districts, its area, the character of the inhabitants and its topography, are features which must be taken into account and that if they are so, there is every reason for maintaining the Sub-division and for sending an assistant there as soon as possible.

11. I have received reports on the subject from the District Magistrate and the Deputy Inspector General which I enclose for the perusal of Government. They both agree with me in thinking it very advisable to maintain an assistant here and I hope the Government will not remove him.

12. I may add that I intend very shortly making a recommendation to Government as regards posting an assistant to the district.

I have the honor to be,

I see that the "mistaken object of economy" is at the bottom of all the mischief — & that if a proper basement had been insisted on at the time the present troubles wd. not have arisen. It appears to me that the D.P.W. should stand out for what they consider is absolutely necessary to make a house habitable, and if the cost involved is beyond the prescribed scale, India must be asked in each case to allow a lower rent to be paid. I see nothing for it but to hammer away at them, & perhaps they will be induced to alter the rules. I await the I.G.'s report on the necessity for placing an Asst. Supdt. at Nandyal. W 15 Jan

The circumstances connected with the construction of the Assistant Superintendent's residence at Nandyal, and the unsatisfactory nature of the accommodation provided in it, have previously been inquired into, and a history of the building will be found in the Chief Engineer's note attached to G.O. Before going further in this matter, I should like to ask the I.G. of Police, if an Assist.t Superint.t of Police is necessary in the Kurnool district. As far as my experience goes, we always have a number of districts (many of them important ones) without an assistant Supt.t at all, and I cannot help thinking that Kurnool may ~~make~~ do without an Ass.t Supt.t far better than many other districts.

Sir,

With reference to Rule IV, para 28, Chapter XI, Vol. I, Public Works Code, I am directed to forward an application to reduce the rent of the Government building at Nandyal, occupied as a residence by the Assistant Superintendent of Police, from the normal rate of Rs: 46 to Rs: 25 per mensem.

2. The building has been condemned as a residence on account of insufficient accommodation, unsuitable site and want of basement, the last named defect rendering it damp and unhealthy, and it is proposed eventually to make it over to the District Board either on rent or by sale. Meanwhile plans and estimates for the construction of a new building have been called for, and pending completion, it is considered that the rent of the existing building should be reduced to Rs: 25 per mensem, the market rate for similar accommodation in the locality.
