 Madras Harbour Works - Remarks on Progress Report of -

COPY NOTE by SIR A RENDEL, DATED 20th NOVEMBER 1895.

Refer to Report of 1894

The report shows that except a portion of the concrete required to raise the Breakwaters to the height above high water determined on the works of the Harbour as sanctioned up to the present time are very nearly complete. It would seem that the mode of turning the Harbour to the best account is now coming under consideration.

*G.O. 34 W of 4-1-95 file.
 J.P.
 9-1-96*

A good deal of sand is forced through the South Breakwater into the Harbours. This results from the open nature of its structure and the drift of sand along the shore Northwards. It is easy to prevent it, but it has to be prevented for otherwise at least a wide strip on the inner part of the South side of the Harbour will be lost. The proper method of meeting the case will depend upon the nature of the works determined on for the utilisation of the Harbour. If ^{no?} such works are carried out resort must be had to dredging.

This Surveyor was entertained on a salary of Rs 30 with a promise of getting 1/2 in addition viz single horse allowance in the completion of the investigation of the Chepauk Project during absence on leave of temporary overseen V. Varadachariyer and it became necessary to employ him for 17 days in excess of the sanctioned period owing partly to the prolonged absence of the overseer and partly to his having had to accompany the overseer in taking and giving over charge of the field work.
2. As the grant of 1/2 is opposed to rule 1103 of C.S.R. it is proposed to pay him at the rate of Rs 45 per mensem to cover his travelling expenses out of savings from the sanctioned amount.
