G.O. No. 875, Judicial, dated 16th May 1896.

Read—the following letter from the Inspector-General of Registration, Madras, dated 21st April 1896, No. 1817 G. :—

I have the honour to submit, for the sanction of Government, an estimate for Rs. 3,780 prepared by the Consulting Architect to Government (1) for putting up sunshades for the outer windows on the first floor of the buildings in which my office and the offices of the Registrar of Madras and Sub-Registrar of Sowcarpet are held; (2) for providing the several rooms with punkahs; and (3) for certain other sundry necessary repairs and improvements. The necessity for carrying out the improvements is explained below.

2. First, Sunshades.—The windows not being provided with sunshades, the western rays of the sun in the afternoon beat into the hall where my office clerks sit, as well as into the rooms where the clerks of the Registrar and Sub-Registrar sit, and it then becomes very inconvenient for the clerks to work; hence the necessity for sunshades.

3. Second, Punkahs.—The portions of the buildings where the clerks sit are shut out from sea breeze, and during this part of the year they become very hot and sultry. Except in the rooms where the Inspector-General and the District Registrar sit, there are no punkahs; hence the necessity for the provision of punkahs which are allowed in all Presidency offices.

4. Third, Sundry items.—It is necessary to put up a planked partition between the District Registrar's office record-room on the first floor and the Sub-Registrar's office to prevent persons from getting into the record-room. There is only one water-tap near the latrines in the office premises. It is proposed to have two more taps—one on the Second Line Beach where latrine accommodation is provided for the public resorting to the Registration offices, and another near the latrines in the western side. The existing tap is in an objectionable locality being near the third latrine, and it will have to be removed further towards the east near the tiffin rooms. The joists, beams, ceilings, doors, &c., in the block of buildings do not appear to have been repainted for several years and at present look untidy, exposed as they are to the dusty winds blowing on the North Beach road in which the traffic is very heavy. It is necessary to repaint them. A door has to be provided for the stables, and ventilators for the latrines.

Order—No. 875, Judicial, dated 16th May 1896.

The erection of punkahs for the clerks appears to Government to be unnecessary. They are not provided in Mufassal offices, though the temperature there is often higher than anything which is experienced in Madras itself.

2. The estimate for the other works is approved and will be transferred to the Public Works Department.
