The Government learns that the land taken up at Nellore for an armoury and parade ground for the South Indian Railway Volunteers and not now required for that purpose, would be unsuitable as a site for a new Taluk office; that it would be an advantage to erect new court-houses at Nellore, but that the need for such buildings is not pressing; and that if it be decided hereafter to build new court-houses, the site in question would be a suitable one. Letter from the Executive Engineer, ing Engineer, 2nd Circle, No. 29186, dated 16th October, 1895.

Has the Honour to state that the land would come on useful for a Taluk Cutcherry, which will have to be built sometime or other in Bellare.

Moreover the site might do if a new District Court and Munsiff Court were built, though probably the Judicial Department would prefer a site nearer the Post office. The cost of a new site would however be great.

It is not certain the Railway bill not eventually require the land.
It is believed that the Engineer or Engineer-in-Chief has inspected it, and a further reference is suggested.

I have heard nothing more from the High Court on the subject. If at some future date it is decided to build a new court-house, the ground required for a Volunteer parade ground (which is not now wanted for that purpose) will be, I think, a convenient site.
