EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following papers :—

From the Hon'ble Mr. D. DUNCAN, M.A., D.Sc., Director of Public Instruction, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Madras, 26th August 1895, No. 9265.

Government having, in its order, No. 1279, Judicial, dated 15th June last, come to the conclusion that the most satisfactory course in regard to the location of the Reformatory School is to retain it where it is at present, such additional space as may be required being secured in the manner suggested by me in paragraph 9 of my letter, No. 2560, dated 4th March 1895, I have now the honour to request that, as proposed by me in paragraph 10 of my letter read above, early arrangements may be made for handing over to this department the building in which the sub-jail at Chingleput is located, so that it may be converted into a store-room and a hospital. This arrangement, if carried out, will admit of the construction of thirteen additional cubicles in the room now occupied by the hospital. The Superintendent reports that the addition of these thirteen cubicles will supply, to a great extent, the want of sufficient accommodation that has been felt hitherto and will, for some time to come, meet all requirements. From the accompanying extract from the official visitors' book, it would appear that the District Magistrate, Chingleput, has no objection to the proposed transfer of the sub-jail building.

REFORMATORY SCHOOL, Chingleput.—Extract from the Official Visitors' Book.

Date of visit.	Observation and recommendation of official visitors.	Remarks or explanation of the Superintendent.	Orders of the Inspector-General.
1895. 15th August ..	Visited the Reformatory. Everything has the usual busy air. The workshops seem very fully employed. The Superintendent who wants the sub-jail building might report about the house lately occupied by the Engineer in reference to that being taken up for a new sub-jail and the present one given to the Reformatory. (Signed) C. H. MOUNSEY. Ag. District Magistrate.	Communicated to the Director of Public Instruction with this office letter, dated 15th August 1895, No. 1550. (Signed) H. A. F. NAILER, M.B., Surgeon-Major, 15th Aug. 1895. Superintendent.

From A. G. CARDEW, Esq., M.A., Inspector-General of Prisons, Madras, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Ootacamund, the 23rd November 1895, No. 6197.

I have the honour to return herewith the paper referred to me for remarks under Mr. Davidson's endorsement, No. 2067, dated 5th September 1895, and to report as follows.

2. The existing sub-jail buildings at Chingleput cannot be handed over to the Reformatory School until a new sub-jail is provided.

3. In consequence of the decision arrived at in G.O., No. 1279, Judicial, dated 15th June 1895, fresh accommodation has to be found, not only for the sub-jail, but also for the sub-registrar and for the Public Works sub-divisional office. The Collector and District Magistrate of Chingleput, to whom a reference has been made, states it is also desirable "to allow for the necessity of a new Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office" being located in the Chingleput Fort. Mr. Mounsey inspected the site on the 28th September last, and proposes that the bungalow lately occupied by the Railway Engineer at a rent of Rs. 50 per mensem, but now vacant, be acquired by the Government under the Act so as to provide offices for the Public Works Sub-divisional office, the Sub-Registrar and the Stationary Sub-Magistrate. It is stated by the Collector and District Magistrate that the bungalow is in excellent order; that it will afford very suitable accommodation for all the offices named; that the owner of the bungalow (name not mentioned) says he would take Rs. 18,000 for it, but that the Collector and District Magistrate thinks this sum exorbitant and is of opinion that Rs. 10,000 would be a fair price and that Rs. 12,000 would be the outside price. The Collector and District Magistrate adds that the owner claims the land also as his, but that, in fact, the land is held on unauthorized occupation for which single assessment only is charged.

4. As regards the sub-jail, Mr. Mounsey proposes that it be built where the stables of the bungalow now stand and between their site and the kitchen. It is stated that there is ample room at this point for sub-jail, with kitchen and latrine to the north, the sub-jail building being in the south-west corner of the building facing east. No other site is said to be available.

5. Two plans, received from the Collector and District Magistrate, are enclosed. The one shows the proposed distribution of the bungalow between the several offices, the other the site of the several buildings in the fort. The dotted red line in the latter shows where Mr. Mounsey proposed that the new Reformatory wall should go. The rain-gauge can, he says, be removed and placed in front of the bungalow.

6. The last information from the Collector and District Magistrate was received on the 28th October, and I regret that, through my absence on tour in the Ganjam district, some delay has occurred. The site plan seems to show clearly that the only means of providing accommodation for the several offices named in paragraph 3 supra is the acquisition of the Railway Engineer's bungalow. The distribution of the accommodation within the bungalow can be determined later, but Mr. Mounsey's opinion that there is sufficient for all may, it is thought, be accepted. If so, the orders for the acquisition of the bungalow, which Mr. Mounsey asked might be obtained at an early date, may be issued in anticipation of any reference to the Public Works and Registration departments as to the division of accommodation.

7. Assuming that the bungalow is acquired, it is evident that a new sub-jail with cook-house and latrine must be built somewhere in the compound, and the site selected by the District Magistrate is said to be the only possible one. The daily average population of the sub-jail during the three years ending 1894 has been sixteen, thirteen and nineteen, respectively. Prisoners committed to the Sessions Court have to be allowed for, and accommodation for forty prisoners should, I think, be provided. Subject to this proviso, a sub-jail on the standard plan should be built. The present sub-jail has accommodation for fifty prisoners. If orders are now issued to the Public Works Department for the preparation of an estimate, this will perhaps be ready by the time that the acquisition of the bungalow has been completed.

7. Assuming that the bungalow is acquired, it is evident that a new sub-jail with cook-house and latrine must be built somewhere in the compound, and the site selected by the District Magistrate is said to be the only possible one. The daily average population of the sub-jail during the three years ending 1894 has been sixteen, thirteen and nineteen, respectively. Prisoners committed to the Sessions Court have to be allowed for, and accommodation for forty prisoners should, I think, be provided. Subject to this proviso, a sub-jail on the standard plan should be built. The present sub-jail has accommodation for fifty prisoners. If orders are now issued to the Public Works Department for the preparation of an estimate, this will perhaps be ready by the time that the acquisition of the bungalow has been completed.

8. In any case a long period—at least a year—must elapse before the Reformatory school can be put in possession of the present sub-jail premises.

ORDER—No. 936, Educational, dated 18th December 1895.

The letter from the Inspector-General of Prisons will be communicated to the Collector of Chingleput with the request that he will report whether the bungalow referred to in paragraph 3 thereof is suitable for the accommodation of the offices of the Public Works Sub-divisional officer, the Sub-Registrar and the Stationary Sub-Magistrate, and, if so, that he will take early steps to acquire it under the Land Acquisition Act.

2. The Public Works Department will at the same time be requested to issue the necessary instructions for the preparation of plans and estimates for a new sub-jail to hold forty prisoners.

READ—the following papers :—

From the Hon'ble Mr. D. DUNCAN, M.A., D.Sc., Director of Public Instruction, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Madras, 26th August 1895, No. 9265.

Government having, in its order, No. 1279, Judicial, dated 15th June last, come to the conclusion that the most satisfactory course in regard to the location of the Reformatory School is to retain it where it is at present, such additional space as may be required being secured in the manner suggested by me in paragraph 9 of my letter, No. 2560, dated 4th March 1895, I have now the honour to request that, as proposed by me in paragraph 10 of my letter read above, early arrangements may be made for handing over to this department the building in which the sub-jail at Chingleput is located, so that it may be converted into a store-room and a hospital. This arrangement, if carried out, will admit of the construction of thirteen additional cubicles in the room now occupied by the hospital. The Superintendent reports that the addition of these thirteen cubicles will supply, to a great extent, the want of sufficient accommodation that has been felt hitherto and will, for some time to come, meet all requirements. From the accompanying extract from the official visitors' book, it would appear that the District Magistrate, Chingleput, has no objection to the proposed transfer of the sub-jail building.

REFORMATORY SCHOOL, Chingleput.—Extract from the Official Visitors' Book.

Date of visit.	Observation and recommendation of official visitors.	Remarks or explanation of the Superintendent.	Orders of the Inspector-General.
1895. 15th August ..	Visited the Reformatory. Everything has the usual busy air. The workshops seem very fully employed. The Superintendent who wants the sub-jail building might report about the house lately occupied by the Engineer in reference to that being taken up for a new sub-jail and the present one given to the Reformatory. (Signed) C. H. MOUNSEY, Ag. District Magistrate.	Communicated to the Director of Public Instruction with this office letter, dated 16th August 1895, No. 1550. (Signed) H. A. F. NAILER, M.B., Surgeon-Major, 15th Aug. 1895. Superintendent.

From A. G. CARDEW, Esq., M.A., Inspector-General of Prisons, Madras, to the Chief Secretary to Government, dated Ootacamund, the 23rd November 1895, No. 6197.

I have the honour to return herewith the paper referred to me for remarks under Mr. Davidson's endorsement, No. 2067, dated 5th September 1895, and to report as follows.

2. The existing sub-jail buildings at Chingleput cannot be handed over to the Reformatory School until a new sub-jail is provided.

3. In consequence of the decision arrived at in G.O., No. 1279, Judicial, dated 15th June 1895, fresh accommodation has to be found, not only for the sub-jail, but also for the sub-registrar and for the Public Works sub-divisional office. The Collector and District Magistrate of Chingleput, to whom a reference has been made, states it is also desirable "to allow for the necessity of a new Stationary Sub-Magistrate's office" being located in the Chingleput Fort. Mr. Mounsey inspected the site on the 28th September last, and proposes that the bungalow lately occupied by the Railway Engineer at a rent of Rs. 50 per mensem, but now vacant, be acquired by Government under the Act so as to provide offices for the Public Works Sub-divisional office, the Sub-Registrar and the Stationary Sub-Magistrate. It is stated by the Collector and District Magistrate that the bungalow is in excellent order; that it will afford very suitable accommodation for all the offices named; that the owner of the bungalow (name not mentioned) says he would take Rs. 18,000 for it, but that the Collector and District Magistrate thinks this sum exorbitant and is of opinion that Rs. 10,000 would be a fair price and that Rs. 12,000 would be the outside price. The Collector and District Magistrate adds that the owner claims the land also as his, but that, in fact, the land is held on unauthorized occupation for which single assessment only is charged.

4. As regards the sub-jail, Mr. Mounsey proposes that it be built where the stables of the bungalow now stand and between their site and the kitchen. It is stated that there is ample room at this point for sub-jail, with kitchen and latrine to the north, the sub-jail building being in the south-west corner of the building facing east. No other site is said to be available.

5. Two plans, received from the Collector and District Magistrate, are enclosed. The one shows the proposed distribution of the bungalow between the several offices, the other the site of the several buildings in the fort. The dotted red line in the latter shows where Mr. Mounsey proposed that the new Reformatory wall should go. The rain-gauge can, he says, be removed and placed in front of the bungalow.

6. The last information from the Collector and District Magistrate was received on the 28th October, and I regret that, through my absence on tour in the Ganjam district, some delay has occurred. The site plan seems to show clearly that the only means of providing accommodation for the several offices named in paragraph 3 supra is the acquisition of the Railway Engineer's bungalow. The distribution of the accommodation within the bungalow can be determined later, but Mr. Mounsey's opinion that there is sufficient for all may, it is thought, be accepted. If so, the orders for the acquisition of the bungalow, which Mr. Mounsey asked might be obtained at an early date, may be issued in anticipation of any reference to the Public Works and Registration departments as to the division of accommodation.

7. Assuming that the bungalow is acquired, it is evident that a new sub-jail with cook-house and latrine must be built somewhere in the compound, and the site selected by the District Magistrate is said to be the only possible one. The daily average population of the sub-jail during the three years ending 1894 has been sixteen, thirteen and nineteen, respectively.
