The Govt of India Code rules having been adopted, the "forms" appertaining to that Code should, apparently, be introduced when there is no valid reason to the contrary.

2. Forms A to Q should, therefore, be substituted for the corresponding Madras forms now going out of print. It does not seem necessary to analyse the differences in detail between the two sets of forms, and this could only be done effectively by a lawyer. If such analysis is, however, considered desirable, it is suggested that the papers be referred to the Govt. Solicitor for opinion, he being the proper adviser in matters of this kind. It may perhaps be assumed that forms in general use in other parts of India, which have been duly approved by the law officers of the Govt of India, can be safely adopted in Madras.

3. In addition to the forms some address forms which are contained in the index series viz 170, 171, 172, 173, 181 & 178A. These all are useful forms, and may, it is thought, be retained.

 4. The Indian form. B1, B1, & L1. These also, for the reason given in para 1 above, be printed, for use when necessary.

I do not consider an analysis of the differences between the two sets of forms necessary, and it seems that as the for-of India forms A to Q have been in several use, it would be quite safe to continue them.
