Proceedings of the Public Works Department, No. 685-AW., dated 24th February 1896, surrendering Rs. 96,927 and fixing the revised estimate for 1895–96 at 25·60 lakhs under 45. Civil Works—Public Works Officers.

Order—No. 139, Financial, dated 3rd March 1896.

The Accountant-General places the revised estimates of expenditure in the current year under Imperial, Provincial and Local funds at 7·47 lakhs * less than in the sanctioned estimates, as shown in Appendix A to these proceedings. The grants have, however, been exceeded under several major and minor, as well as under detailed, heads. These excesses should under standing regulations † be met by specific re-appropriations from ascertained savings.

	Excesses.	Savings.	Net.
*Imperial ..	1·15	1·17	— ·02
Provincial ..	3·39	11·02	—7·63
Local	1·30	1·12	+ ·18
Total ..	5·84	13·31	—7·47

† Paragraphs 13, 14 and 84 to 103 of the Budget rules in G.O., No. 602, Financial, dated 20th August 1895.

Imperial.

2. Of the excess of 1·15 lakhs in this section, ·75 has been sanctioned by the Government of India in its letter ‡ recorded in G.O., No. 906, Financial, dated 19th November 1895. Of the remainder, the largest increases occur under 2. Assignments and Compensations (·12), 7. Excise (·14), and 23. Ecclesiastical, Church of England (·10). These can, however, be met from the lapses under 11. Forest (·60) and other divided heads, and it is unnecessary to address the Government of India at this stage.

‡ Finance and Commerce Department No. 5325-A, dated 8th November 1895.

Provincial.

3. Under paragraph 94 of the budget rules, heads of departments are competent to sanction, by re-appropriations, excess expenditure occurring under minor or detailed heads subordinate to the same major head, provided that the latter is entirely under their control. Excesses of this kind occur under the following heads :—

11. Forest—Establishments.
12. Registration—Superintendence.
19-A. Law and Justice—Law Officers and Refunds.
20. Police—Superintendence and Special Police.
22. Education—Inspection and Government Colleges.
24. Medical—Medical Establishments.

4. Excesses under other heads requiring the separate sanction of the Financial Department are shown in Appendix B and the Accountant-General is authorised to admit the charges by re-appropriation of grants as therein indicated.

5. The special attention of the Board of Revenue will again § be drawn to the inadequate provision under 1. Forest Refunds. The charges doubtless fluctuate considerably from year to year, but it is always safer to provide a margin for unforeseen demands in such cases. The Board will report whether the provision (·06) for 1896–97 is sufficient.

§ G.O., No. 667, Financial, dated 6th September 1895, paragraph 8.

1896–97	Board's estimate	·06	..	..
	Accountant-General's estimate ..	·06	..

6. The Accountant-General anticipates a saving of ·50 in the Provincial share of the charges under 5. Salt, in spite of the entertainment of the additional establishments sanctioned in G.O., No. 488, Revenue, dated 25th July 1895. In the circumstances set out in paragraph 2 of G.O., No. 90, dated 10th February 1896, the altered grant for 1895–96 will stand at the same figure as in the sanctioned estimate, as shown below :—

Salt expenditure.	Sanctioned estimate.	Board's revised estimate.	Accountant-General's revised estimate.	Altered grant.
Salaries, establishment, &c.	4·72	4·74	4·57	4·80

Salt purchase and freight	·93	1·09	1·06	1·18
Total Provincial, 5. Salt ..	6·93	6·78	6·43	6·93

7. The following entries in the revised estimates for 1895–96 should be included in the final issues of the consolidated budget :—

Receipts.—Adjusting Heads—Provincial.—The recovery of the outstanding debt of ·10 from the Ganjám District Board (G.O., No. 1021, Financial, dated 17th December 1895).

Expenditure.—18. General Administration—Civil Secretariats.—Salaries and allowances of the officers on special duty payable in February and March 1896 (·14 including ·10 now shown in the revised estimate under Legislative Council).

20. Police—District Executive Force—Supplies and Services.—Huts for the punitive police force, Tinnevelly (G.O., No. 1044, Financial, dated 21st December 1895)—·05 lakh.

26. Scientific, &c., Departments.—Government Epigraphist (G.O., Nos. 738 and 987, dated 26th September and 11th December 1895)—·01 lakh.

30. Stationery and Printing.—New printing machines for the Penitentiary Press (G.O., No. 445, dated 11th June 1895)—·08 lakh.

Local.

8. The increase (·46) under Medical will be met from the savings (·56) under Education. The excesses (·84), viz., under Minor Works (·25), under Public Works in charge of Civil Officers (·42), and under Adjusting heads (·17), are partly counter-balanced by savings under other Local heads to the extent of ·66, and the balance (·18) according to the Accountant-General's present estimates will be met by re-appropriations from savings under Provincial Services, the altered grants for which are shown in the last column of Appendix A. There will, of course, eventually be a per contra recovery under the head of Contributions.

9. The Accountant-General is requested to arrange for a Summary being added in the Civil estimates under 45. Civil Works, showing the aggregate expenditure under each of the following Local funds separately :—

Incorporated Local Funds.

45. Civil Works.	Budget, 1896–97.	Revised, 1895–96.	Budget, 1895–96.

10. It is observed that up to date very few heads of departments have complied with the instructions in paragraphs 84 to 103 of the budget rules in regard to the submission of applications for additional allotments and the surrender of lapses. Advantage will be taken of the present opportunity to define more exactly the procedure to be adopted in future.

11. The revised forecasts of the current year's expenditure submitted by heads of departments with their budget estimates are in the majority of cases based on the actuals of four or five months and are, therefore, of little value. At any rate they cannot be taken as the guide for sanctioning additional allotments, for resuming lapses or for fixing the altered grants. To render the latter as accurate as possible and to ensure retrenchments being made from the proper sources and additions being sanctioned only when found to be absolutely unavoidable, it is necessary that the greater portion of the year should have elapsed and that the progress of expenditure in the various departments should have been carefully scrutinized. The Accountant-General's revised estimates incorporated with the Preliminary Issue of the Civil estimates in January afford the earliest opportunity for this scrutiny as well as for a satisfactory review of the whole position under Imperial, Provincial and Local.

12. Under existing arrangements, however, heads of departments are not sufficiently in touch with the Accountant-General who bases his revised estimates of January chiefly on the actuals of past years and on those of eight months of the current year. For 1895–96 he has reduced the budget grants in several cases below the amounts named by heads of departments, as shown below:—

Botanical Gardens	17,100	18,900	17,800
43. Minor Works and Navigation—Civil	4,20,000	4,15,000	3,85,000

13. The above figures tend to show that the information furnished in their budget estimates by heads of departments is insufficient. It is the duty of such officers continuously to watch the progress of expenditure in their respective branches of the administration, and at the same time to ensure the speedy development of departmental operations and the utilization of the sanctioned grants before the close of the year. It is therefore incumbent on them to review their forecasts in the light of the Accountant-General's corrections based on later information and to advise Government in order that the altered grants under each head may be finally determined with some degree of precision. These altered grants form the sole authority for disbursements; the Accountant-General has, under article 158 of the Civil Account Code, to conduct his audit against them, and the actual expenditure of the year ought to approximate to them as closely as possible.

14. The Accountant-General will therefore be requested to supply copies of the Preliminary Civil budget estimates, commencing with those of January 1897, to heads of departments, who will, within a week of the receipt of these, forward through him to Government, in the subjoined form, a memorandum of all further alterations of grants that may appear to them to be necessary from an administrative point of view:—

2. Summary.			Rs.

Net total additional allotment required
Net total re-appropriation sanctioned by the head of the department under pargraphs 94 and 95 of the Budget rules

15. The Accountant-General will be requested to state whether it would not simplify matters considerably if he were empowered to authorise, after reviewing these memoranda, the admission of all excess items under the following classes of expenditure:—

(i) Increases due to alterations in the rates of exchange compensation allowance, to absences of officers on privilege leave, to deputation of officers on special duty, to refunds of erroneous credits, to account transfers from one head to another, and to other unavoidable causes over which the Government cannot exercise any adequate control.

(ii) All excesses under individual minor heads and sub-heads up to Rs. 500 wherever the grants for the same do not exceed Rs. 20,000, provided that there are savings under the total major head and that there are no account or other objections to the admission of the items in question.

16. If this course were followed the Accountant-General might retain such of the alteration memoranda as he could himself dispose of and forward only those which require the specific sanction of Government. In the consolidated statement of Excesses over grants submitted after the close of the year, he might refer to the items sanctioned by himself under the powers now proposed to be delegated to him.
