READ the following paper :—

From the Registrar of the High Court, appellate Side, dy 4th February 1896, No 368 —

The City Civil Judge has applied to this Court for providing his court-room with glass doors, as a protection against the strong wind and dust, the bustle and noise caused by those who use the Northern verandah as a thoroughfare to the Vakils' offices on the west, and the constant noise of the Tramcars passing along the road not far from the Court-room.

2. The Consulting Architect has reported that the work will cost about Rs: 2000/- The High Court considers that the application of the City Civil Judge should be complied with. I am accordingly directed to request that Government will be pleased to direct the Consulting Architect to
