Nº 161

Dated 24 July 1897

Sir,

I have the honour to report that an accident happened on the building (Collector's Cutcherry) on the 22nd Inst. A man named Vallamuthu was untying a low scaffolding with other coolies when the uprights tilted to one side and went over. The man was unable to get away in time and the scaffolding fell upon him. The result was that the man was brought to the ground with considerable force and dislocated his jaw. I hear that there was a fracture as well. The man was sent to hospital immediately after the accident.

I have etc
