In reply to your No 274 W.C of 31st May 1897, I have the honor to submit a diagram showing the comparative cost of second sort rice at Mangalore, Calicut and Manjeri for the last eighteen months and Statements of the daily cost of ordinary diet of a peon in the two latter places.

2. From the diagram it is evident that the dweller in Ernad has nothing to complain of in the actual cost of rice, in fact for the last 4 months he has been a little better off than he would be in the other two places.

3. From the other two Statements which I think fairly represen represent the actual cost of a reasonable diet, it may be taken that the cost of living in the two places is about the same. Where the peon employed in Ernad suffers is that he is living away from his family in a jungle tract, noted for its unhealthiness and where there are no regular bazaars and the weekly markets are few and far between and it is on these grounds that a Special allowance is recommended

Sir,

I have the honour to state that peon Krishnasawmy Pillay on the permanent establishment has been transferred from the South Canara Sub Division Office to the new Ernad Roads Sub Division. As his present pay (Rs 6) is quite inadequate to enable him to meet his expenses in that expensive locality and as the temporary peons entertained there have been recommended for Rs 10 monthly, I request you will be good enough to obtain the sanction of Government to the grant of a local allowance of Rs 2 to the permanent peons that may be employed in the Ernad Sub Division

The grant of a "local allowance" would require the sanction of the Govt. of India, but it is open to Govt. to raise the rate of pay of the peons in the Ernad Sub Division if satisfied as to the necessity for the increase, the difference between this enhanced rate of pay & pay proper being treated as "compensation for dearness of food".
