PROCEEDINGS OF THE MADRAS GOVERNMENT.

Read the following paper:—

From the Inspector-General of Police, Madras, No. 2238, dated 29th June 1897:—

I have the honour to report that a small room measuring 20'X15' in the Taluk Cutcherry at Srungavarapukota, Vizagapatam District is used as a Police station there. This space is considered inadequate for a large and important Cusbah station, whose strength is 2 Head and 18 constables.

2. This Taluk Cutcherry was constructed in 1892 on the old standard design. The Superintendent of Police was not consulted at the time of the construction of the building as to the provision of accommodation for the Police. A rough plan of the building is herewith submitted for reference. Room No.1 is used as the Police station. The space allotted for the Police cannot be extended in any direction. The plan, although adopted in many places is not a good one, provides accommodation which is only sufficient for a small station. In this case where accommodation is required for a large station and an Inspector, it is necessary to build a separate building.

3. Another disadvantage is that the sub-jail cells, marked I, II, III, and IV in the rough plan, open into the police station and consequently prisoners confined therein see and hear all that takes place.

4. For the above reasons I agree with the Superintendent and Deputy Inspector-General that a new 2nd class station house should be constructed within the compound of the Taluk Cutcherry which is large enough for the purpose.

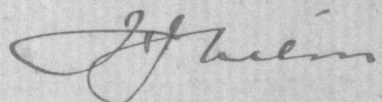

5. If my proposal is approved, I beg that the Public Works Department may be directed to prepare the necessary plans and estimates.
