2. The cost of the construction or purchase of the building cannot be traced from the books of this office.

3. If the building was in existence on the 7th September 1892 no addition to the capital cost should be made for Establishment and Tools and Plant. (Code I.X.28.116)

4. According to the figures given by the Consulting Architect to Government the rent of Rs 26 per mensem is correct but if the amount of Establishment and Tools and Plant charges has to be omitted the monthly rate of rent would be Rs 24 as per pencil entries made by this office.

Remarks.

2. The building has been in existence long before the 7th September 1888 and has been used as a school. A portion of it is now used as residence for the first time and it seems to me doubtful whether the rule in P.W. Code I, §, 28 i(k) is at all applicable to the case. The object of the rule quoted by the Examiner would appear to be to prevent, by adding the share for establishment and
