Note. Chicks are not mentioned among the fixtures to be supplied by the P.W. Dept. under para 2, Ch. X, Vol I, P.W. Code, while in para 4, "punches or talties", under either of which best "chicks" might be included, are articles which the P.W.D. is not to supply.

Chicks however form a very heavy item of expenditure in the case of large public buildings, and it seems only reasonable that their cost should be charged to the estimate for the work concerned, and that they should be regarded as fixtures just as punches are.

The Engineer has raised this question in connection with Govt. House, & the matter will be represented to the Govt.

of India, with a view to commutation that chicks be included in para 2 of Ch. X of the Code. If the reply be favorable, the cost of the chicks for the new native quarters in the Govt. Hospital can be included in the estimate for the work; otherwise it must be defrayed from Govt. Hospital contingencies, or made other appropriate, at least as may be decided on.

Meanwhile as the chicks are absolutely necessary and the need for them urgent, the Comg. Architect might be directed to supply them at once - Govt. must buy ~~from~~ ^{for} them from one source or other,

& the incidence of
the cost can be settled hereafter.
