Simla, the 1st October 1897.

SIR,

In the Government of India circular No. 11 Ry., dated the 14th December 1895, a new class "Explosives" with a maximum rate of $1\frac{1}{2}$ pies and the minimum rate of $\frac{1}{6}$ th pie per maund per mile was added to the schedules of maximum and minimum rates for the carriage of goods traffic applicable to the railways mentioned in the observations embodied in that circular, and in Government of India circular No. 4 Ry., dated the 1st June 1897, it was decided that the maximum and minimum rates prescribed for "Explosives" should also be applicable to dangerous goods other than "Explosives."

The question having since been raised as to how the additional class should be designated in the schedules of maximum and minimum rates, the Government of India are pleased to decide that it should be inserted in the schedules as "Explosives including dangerous goods."

I have the honour to be,
SIR,
Your most obedient Servant,

E. A. Anderson
