ENCLOSURE.

From J. S. WILSON, Esq., Executive Engineer, Kistna Eastern Division, to the Superintending Engineer, II Circle, dated 9th December 1897, No. 396.

With reference to your No. 2271 K.E., dated 17th November 1897, asking for fuller explanation regarding the increase of the stock limit, I have the honour to state that the increase is advisable for two reasons: (1) to regularise the present excess, which is due to large quantities of cement pipes having been bought during the last two years, of which a large portion have not yet been transferred to works. It will be sometime before these pipes can be issued and till then the excess must continue; (2) again, where, materials are required for work during the closure of the canals, it is necessary to procure them before the close of one official year though they may be required for use in the ensuing one. Unless permission is given for the charging of these materials to stock, there may be difficulty in paying for them owing to the balances of the year being insufficient. For these two reasons I consider an increase of the stock limit to be advisable and request that the increase asked for may be approved.

ORDER—No. 2351 W., dated 9th September 1898.

A reserve stock limit of Rs. 1,10,500 for the Kistna Eastern division is sanctioned. The Superintending Engineer will report, in due course, when the limit may be reduced.

In letter No 2066 H. S. 57 30.10.97, the Supt Engineer applied for a further increase of the stock limit to Rs 30,000 on account of a large purchase of cement pipes for irrigation works in the division which could not immediately be debited to the works concerned owing to restriction of expenditure in 1897. It was pointed out to the Supt. Engr that the limit had been raised in 1894 to Rs 20,000 as a temporary measure in July 1894, & explanation was asked for as to why the former limit of Rs 3000 had not been worked down to between July 1894 & Oct 1897. No reply was received to this reference, but the Supt Engr now asks for sanction to raise the stock limit to Rs 1,10,500.

It must be explained that under No. 330W dated 10.2.98, the Head Works of the Kistna Northern division, which include the Mangrada workshops & the quarries, were amalgamated with the Eastern division, thus causing a large access of stock in the latter division.

The reserve stock limit in the Northern division was Rs 93,000 at the time of the amalgamation, & previously for a time in 1897. It was Rs. 1,08,900 - at the end of Sept. 1897. There was stock to the value of Rs 29,285 in the Eastern division - the proposal to have a stock limit of Rs 1,10,500 in the combined division is thus not unreasonable, & the application may be sanctioned - under para 125, Chap II, Vol. II, P.W. Code, when it is necessary to maintain a reserve of stock in any division, the Govt. sanction a maximum value for the reserve - If this limit is exceeded, the item comes under objection in the accounts. Owing to the transfer of the Head Works of the Kistna Northern division to the Eastern division, there is now no properly recognized stock limit for the latter division beyond the Rs 20,000 formerly sanctioned, it is necessary to fix a limit to meet audit objection.

In sanctioning the limit of Rs 1,10,500 applied for, it is proposed to ask the Supty. Engr to report later on, when it may be reduced to a smaller figure.
