rates to officers of the Forest Department touring in certain hill tracts of this Presidency including Bolampatty hills. The application was refused on the ground that the travelling allowance of the officers in question had already been fixed at special rates in view of the unfavourable conditions of the country where their duty lay. These rates are given in Art. 129(a) of the C.S. Regulations. The only other class of officers outside the P.W. Department who are likely to tour in the Bolampatty hills are officers of the Revenue Department, and these officers also receive the special rates provided for in this Article of the Civil Service Regulations.

I have etc.,

R.S. 3. I am to add that the expenses of travelling in this difficult & unhealthy tract of country are in no way covered by the ordinary rates of travelling allowance. Residence there is very unpopular with the subordinates of the Dept. and increased rates are very necessary for the thorough investigation of the subject.
