Sir,

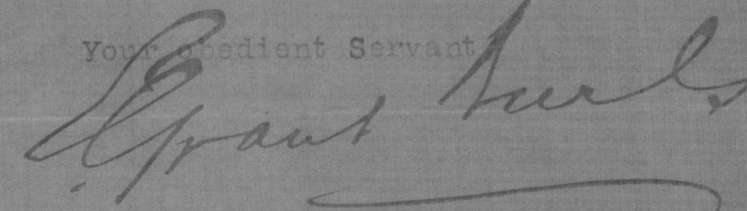

With reference to your letter No. 65 W. of 10th January, 1898, I regret to learn that the boiled linseed oil in question is not pale enough and I have ordered 25 drums of specially pale oil, which are promised to be ready for shipment in a few days.

All the boiled linseed oil supplied by this Department is what is known as "pale" and is lighter in colour than the ordinary commercial article. As the indent did not state that a specially pale oil was required it was therefore thought that the usual boiled oil would be light enough.

In future indents it would be desirable in order to ensure a correct supply, to demand specially pale oil in cases where the usual boiled oil is not sufficiently light.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient Servant

Director General of Stores.

Secretary to Government,
Public Works Department,
