1. Providing handles to and

2. Repairing and handling
Famine Tools. Rs. 5540

These works, from the Executive Engineer's letter accompanying the estimate, appear to have been carried out in anticipation of sanction due to warnings received from the Comptroller that a sufficient number of tools, with handles,
fixed, should be ready for transport up country.
Every precaution was taken against lavish expenditure.

and substituted and the necessity for it has already been reported in my No. 313 Lr., dated 16.12.97, as due to the tools not having been stamped with any mark at all.

Para 5:- The necessity for increasing the expenditure is due to the warnings from the Collector to have a sufficient number of tools ready with handles fixed before they are sent up country.

Para 6:- It may be remembered that at first an estimate of Rs 1637 for a small number of tools only was prepared and sanctioned in your No. 582 Lr., of 15.12.97, but as it was apprehended that famine would assume a serious aspect and as there was some difficulty in getting the handles when required, it became imperative to have the full number of tools in store handled and kept ready to meet urgent demands as the supply of tools with with the Local Fund and the Civil Department was very limited. The Collector was also consulted on the subject. The largest number reached was though 6481 only, inclusive of works carried out by Civil Agency, yet permission has been made for the average number of persons estimated to require work daily, viz. 21320, vide enclosure to Collector's reference No. 157 Lr. dated 20.1.98.

Para 7:- It will be observed from replies given above that every precaution was taken to avoid lavish expenditure and the only question that I had any doubt was that of ordering more tools from Madras.

I request that the original sanction referred to in para 6 above may be cancelled as it was not acted upon.
