Sir,

In February last, J. Swami Chetti, a temporary clerk, attached to the Erode Sub-Division, was posted to the Salem Division, as permanent Storekeeper. He was accord-ingly relieved of his duties in the former office on the afternoon of 28th February 99, and joined the latter on the afternoon of 7th March 1899, after availing himself of 6 days joining time. He was engaged till the 13th of March in taking over charge of the furniture and other tools, of which there are a large number in the Division.

2. As the clerk held no substantive appointment previously, he was not entitled to any pay until he took over charge of his new appointment, and consequently

3. No pay was claimed for him from 1st to 13th March 1899 (both days inclusive).

He has now submitted an appeal claiming pay from 1st to 7th March (the period taken as joining time), and from 8th to 13th (the time he was actually engaged in assuming charge of his duties). The Clerk had clearly no right to joining time, but it seems he should lose pay for the time spent in taking over charge of the tools and I think pay for this period might be passed.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,

Your Most Obedt Servt.
