Sir with reference to para 3 of the List of main resolutions circulated with the above GO
I understand that,
present incumbents of
the CE Provicent Fund, see option (2), are allowed to convert their shares into sterling deposits. in any year they may elect for.

about the year 190-191 I submitted a special application to withdraw from the Fund (It will be in the Chief Engineer's office) but it was rejected by the Govt of India. Under the terms of the resolution now circulated, I wish to convert my Rupee deposit to a Sterling basis from 31 March 191 the amount of my deposit on that date being Rs 12203 & the average exchange of the previous twelve months having been 18.089 of Rupees.
From the above date, 31/3/191, I consent to a rate of interest of 3% on the Sterling amount viz. £920-5-7.

On looking over my accounts I notice that Compound interest had not been calculated monthly (in accordance with, I think, the rules of the Fund) since the date (31/12/87) I ceased subscribing thereto.
Kindly inform me if this is correct.
