I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 37 G.—B. & C., dated 20th January 1899, enquiring where payments will be made in the case of depositors who elect to have their accounts in the Civil Engineers' Provident Fund kept on a sterling basis.

2 In reply, I am to state that payments will be made either in England or in India at the depositor's option. If the depositor wishes for a draft in London, the Comptroller-General will, when the sterling balance due has been ascertained, obtain one for him from the Bank of Bengal. If, however, he wishes to be paid in rupees, he will be so paid at a rate which the Comptroller-General shall decide to be the buying rate of the day for demand drafts in London.
