Suptg. Engineer. This was returned with the remark that sufficient reasons had not been shown for the entertainment of the additional hand.

2. In September 1899, the Executive and the Superintending Engineers brought to notice the backward state of affairs in the drawing section of the Divisional Office and strongly recommended that the services of an additional draftsman on Rs.50 for 12 months were absolutely necessary, as otherwise serious delays would be entailed in carrying out works which would yield a good revenue. Vide Flag J. This application was supported by the Chief Engineer for Irrigation; but the Chief Engineer, P.W.D. was not fully satisfied as to the necessity for the extra hand and asked the Superintending Engineer to report whether in the event of a draftsman on Rs.50 being sanctioned, the services of a temporary man on Rs.30 now in the office could not be dispensed with.

3. In reply to the above reference, the Superintending Engineer states that all the divisions in his circle are in a congested state owing to insufficiency of establishment and that in order to make proper arrangements to meet next famine, if it should unfortunately occur, the arrears in the drawing section must first be cleared off. It will be seen from the list of estimates submitted that the outturn of work in the drawing section of the divisional office is not bad and that there are still 56 estimates remaining unchecked, besides 41 T.R.S. estimates to be copied. In these circumstances, the application for the entertainment of an additional draftsman and a tracer may be sanctioned for 12 months.

that

4. There is much truth in the Superintending Engineer's statement in para 4 of his letter that the pay and status of draftsmen in the Department must be raised, if we are to obtain a class of men capable of dealing with estimates and preparing them in the manner in which the work should be performed. This is a general question which will be taken up separately.

6 oct 99
Engineer,

18/11/99

Madras.

G. F. Hancock Esq., Esr. Engineer, Bellary
Division to the Supt. Engineer, III Circle, Bellary.

With reference to your No 3324 dated 10th September 1899, I have the honour to enclose a list of plans and estimates received & prepared in this Office since the 1st April 1899.

2. With reference to para 3 of your endorsement the drawing branch is employed as follows:-

Head Draftsman. Preparing plans & estimates and checking big estimates and supervising the work of the assistants.

2nd Draftsman. Tracing plans, copying estimates and checking small estimates.

Temporary Draftsman. Checking calculations in estimates, tracing &c.

3. At the beginning of August 1899
a large number of estimates for "Famine Relief" were suddenly called for, this necessitated the laying aside of all other works in the drawing section for the time being (i.e. nearly one month) and had it not been for the timely interference of rain the drawing branch of this Office would have been thrown hopelessly into arrears.

4. In consequence of the normal condition of arrears the Executive Engineer is unable to prepare plans and estimates for original works and improvements which occur to him as desirable when out on inspection.

5. No specific complaint can be laid against the Draftsmen of this Office as they are always at work but they are unconscionably slow, and in my opinion the present Head Draftsman is not fit to be the head of a drawing section for which a fairly able man should, I think, be selected.

6. A glance at the list of estimates received and checked gives an idea of the amount of work thrown upon the drawing branch, and is I think, more than should be expected of 2 Draftsmen (both of whom are, in my experience, decidedly below the average in the matter of intelligence) and one temporary hand.

N. 3792 W. Supt. Engineer's Office, III Circle, Bellary, 16th October 1899.

From

Lieut. Col. W. L. B. Baddley R. E.

Supt. Engineer, III Circle,

Bellary.

To

The Chief Engineer,

P. W. Department,

Madras

Sir,

Enclosures-3

In reference to your N. 1237 D of 26th September 1899, I have the honour to forward a copy of letter N. 6658 of 4th October from the Exe. Engineer Bellary Division and a list of plans and estimates in original.

2. I have applied for a temporary draftsman on Rs 50 for one year and for a tracer on Rs 15.

3. I do not believe that the draftsmen in the Bellary Division are more incompetent than many others in the Department. The head draftsman of the Kurnool division is absolutely useless.

4. There is no doubt in my mind that the pay and status of draftsmen in the Dept.

must

must be raised, if we are to obtain a class of men capable of dealing with the quality and great increase of work in the Department.

5. All the Divisions of this Circle are in a congested state, owing to insufficiency of establishment, and if we are to make proper arrangements to meet the next famine, the arrears in the drawing Offices must first be cleared off, and this can only be done by employing temporary hands.

6. I may mention that Mr Hancock is now living in the Office in order to be able to look after the draftsmen of his Office.

7. As regards my own draftsmen, I consider the two seniors to be most excellent workmen. They have however often to do work which ought to be done in the Division Offices and this causes delay in my Office.

8. I applied for the services of the tracer in this Office No. 2606 I of 13 July 1899 to the Chief Engineer for Irrigation Tank Restoration Scheme. The period mentioned was $7\frac{1}{2}$ months but as more arrears have accumulated, I think it would be advisable to sanction the man's employment for one year.

9. I understand from the Chief Engineer

Engineers for Irrigation's N^o ^{III} 3932 of 18th September that the application for a draftsman on P^y 50 has been forwarded to you, but I do not think a proposition statement has been submitted.

I therefore enclose a proposition statement for the services of the draftsman and tracer and I trust you will give my proposals your strongest support.

10. I am not aware why the Bellary Division has the reputation of being a light one. During the last official year 17,000 letters were entered in the receipt and despatch registers and the list of papers now submitted shows that the drawing office is in a hopeless state of arrears.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient servant,
 Fred B. Baddeley Lieut Col. Regt.

Sup'tg. Engineers, III Circle.
