I think it would be correct as this is a special charge & would enhance the value of the wood unnecessarily to debit the cost incurred to the works for which the wood was obtained specially or to works in progress in case it was obtained for general purposes.

There is no objection to -- the charge being dealt with as proposed as a special case, but it would be more correct to debit the cost incurred to the works for which the wood was obtained.

The outlay was incurred on no part of the railway purposes connected with the work.
