The Government
regrets that it cannot approve the proposal
of the Supt. Engineer Contained in his letter N-500 W of 2. Sept. 1888 - The delay in relieving the late Chief Storekeeper of the D. W. Stores has perhaps entailed a little extra work on the clerks promoted in the arrangement; but ^{for this} they must be prepared for it.

Keeper, retired

ORDER

I do not think I can approve this proposal.
There has perhaps been a little extra work, but officers must be prepared for this

8.12.99

The provisions made in the place of the late Chief Storekeeper of the P. W. Stores will have effect from the dates on which the Clerks concerned assumed charge of their respective duties. Government observes that the late Chief Storekeeper was finally relieved on the 5th October 1899 and that the extra cost to the State by the arrangement now sanctioned is Rs. 79-6-8.

were made in a vacancy in the post of Chief Storekeeper P.W. stores, caused by retirement.
These promotions
will ordinarily have effect from the date when the retiring Storekeeper is finally relieved. In the present case it has taken 3 months for the new incumbent to relieve the retiring Subordinate. The delay is explained as due to the necessity for complete stock taking consequent on the fire which destroyed the principal records. This delay pre-judicially affects the Subordinates promoted in the arrangement; they have to forego the increased allowances they should draw in their higher posts. The Suptg. Engineer recommends accordingly, that the promotions be ordered to take effect from the dates on which these men assumed charge of their respective duties. The Examiner reports that the extra cost to the State on this account viz Rs.

79-6-8, will be admitted, if Government orders it.
The circumstances of the case are special and it is proposed to accept the Suptg.
Engineer's recommendation.

to do work of stock-taking. The work has been done and the man has now succeeded as the Chief Store-keeper and is responsible for the stores. He has deposited a security of $1000 for the appointment. But he will not at once begin to draw any extra in his new appointment as the maximum pay of his previous appointment is the minimum pay of his present one. He will however be entitled in due course to increments of salary from the date of his appointment as Chief Store-keeper. A series of promotions were made to fill up the place of the second clerk in the S.E. office, as the work could not be done otherwise. It is only fair that the men so promoted should receive the increased pay attaching to their respective posts. vide this office. No 510 W. dated 2nd September 1899.

The total extra cost thus involved is £79-6-8.

Note for information

The five in the Store destroyed all the sub-lettings and after records, and as the Chief Clerk Messrs could not possibly attend to this current duties, and take stock of the many articles in the Store, to estimate the damage done by the fire, and ascertain what was not damaged - the work involving the counting or weighing of every thing in the Store, it was necessary to appoint and transfer to the Store, the second clerk of the S.E.'s Office

Returned to the Supty. Engr., T Circle, with the remark that the statement that the extra wt involved is Rs 79-6-8 appears to be incorrect because no account has been taken of the pay of the clerk who succeeded the storekeeper. This man was evidently extra to the sanctioned establishment for three months. The Supty. Engineer is requested to resubmit the statement after revision.

My proposals on the Subject have apparently been misunderstood.

The Clerk who succeeded the Storekeeper drew only the pay of his own grade from the date (5.7.99) on which he commenced to take charge, to the 5.10.99, when the transfer of charge was completed, so that so far as this clerk is concerned, there has been no extra cost.

In respect of the three men

who had to do duty in higher posts, the proposal is to give them the higher pay from the date on which they assumed charge. The extra cost in their case, as entered in the statement, is only Rs. 79.6.8.

No other appointments in connection with the case have been made, and none other will have effect from any date earlier than that (viz. 5.10.99) on which the late storekeeper retired.

You will thus see that the extra cost involved by the proposals is only Rs. 79.6.8, as shown in the statement which is herewith returned.

Yours faithfully,
