20 March 76. Looking to the facts of the case against Amin Ragava Aiyengar, I am of opinion that they are not of so serious a nature as to keep him any longer out of office. Upon enquiring it turned out that Amins used to guide themselves in effecting disputes compromised but thought such attempt was laudable, then fully lay in the suppression of the facts of compromise by not putting them in their returns to the processes.
This was not a half intentional and all Amins are now warned against indulging in such practices. This Amin Ragava Aiyengar in consideration of his long faithful service without any word against him is excused

Liv.

Amin Ragavayangar was entrusted with a warrant of attachment to attach the the Defendants' moveables and on his going to the village to execute the process he found that the Defendants' house in which the moveables were alleged to have been kept was locked up. The amin instead of returning the process unexecuted when he found that the outer door was locked up put over it another lock of his own and sealed it thus restraining the Defendants from entering into the house which is illegal

I suspended the amin for this misconduct for one month from this date subject to your approval and sanction.
