MEMORANDUM.

I beg to state that the pay and the duties of the Niranim establishment in question do not appear to have been regulated by orders of Government, but that provision was made, as could be traced out from the land revenue budgets of the years noted marginally, to meet the cost of this establishment from revenue, miscellaneous, and nothing further could be traced out in connection with it.

1866-67.

1868-69.

1869-70.

2. Their services do not appear to have been traced as permanent, for if they were they would have been included in the annual establishment list submitted to the Accountant-General, in which they cannot be found.

3. As explained in paragraph 1 their salaries for the years referred to appear to have been debited to "Land Revenue, Miscellaneous." This establishment is analogous to the nirganti or nirpachi on the village establishment.
