Report

Proceedings of the Collector of Coimbatore dated 3rd November 1883.

Read letter from the Deputy Collector in charge of the Treasury, Coimbatore dated 25th October 1883 No. 692 reporting on the subject of a missing note alleged to have been brought to the Treasury on the 26th September 1883 by an Orderly of the Head Quarter Police office for payment into the Treasury with some other monies, to have been lost and to have been recovered. —

Read also the Enclosure to the above letter. —

Order No. 1823 of 1883.

From a perusal of the above it is evident that the note was not mislaid by accident but that it was intentionally stolen by some one, and that the thief being afraid of the disturbance that was made about its loss thought it safest so to get rid of the note that it might be found by some body and produced before the authorities and the matter thus squared. There can be no other conclusion for supposing that it was accidentally dropped by the Police Orderly who brought it on his way from the Police office to the Treasury, it could not have been found near the Registration office where it was said to have been picked up by a boy (who is very very young and of weak mind and unable to give a proper account of his finding it) as the wind was blowing in quite a Contrary direction.

2- The Police suspected the Head Shroff Subroya Chetty who was the man who received the notes in the Treasury from the Police man. They searched him the same evening and his house next morning. It is impossible now to get information as to the real thief such as would warrant a Magisterial prosecution and the matter will therefore rest here so far as Criminal action is Concerned; but some serious departmental notice must be taken of the Treasury official immediately Concerned; viz. the Head Shroff Subroya Chetty. His Conduct is by no means above suspicion and he has at least been most stupid as will be shown below and has thus proved himself to be unfit to hold the responsible post of Head Shroff; who is the officer immediately next in rank to the Cash-keeper and who has to be in immediate charge of the Treasurer's money and stamps during any temporary absence of the Cash keeper.

3- On the said date the Police Orderly brought notes and cash with three Chellans one of which containing three separate items, had, according to the Head Shroff's own admission, the total entered in it while the other two each of which contained only one item had no separate totals entered in them. This separate total was not at all necessary and there are in the Treasury many other Chellans each containing only a single item like those under notice but without a separate total and which have been admitted by the Cash Department without objection. Therefore when the Chellans and the money were presented he should have taken both and if any Correction was necessary he should have sent the Chellans by the Constable for the purpose, not have sent him back with the Cash and notes to the risk of losing them. In regard to the one Chellan properly filled up his plain duty was to receive it and the money. The Constable says he gave the notes to the Shroff and the Shroff denies it - It is not possible to say which speaks the truth, but it is very much against the Shroff that he sent the Constable back on an unnecessary errand.

Head

4- Next, immediately the dispute arose between him and the Orderly about the missing note, it was his plain duty to have told the Sentry to prevent people from going into or out of the Treasury (there is but one way out) and to have given immediate notice to the Treasury Deputy Collector through the Cash keeper in order that the Police might be called in and a thorough search made. Instead of doing so he told the Policeman to run back again to the Police office to see if he had left the note there and never himself brought the matter to the notice of his superiors. It was first mentioned to the Treasurer by one of the Treasury Gallahs after a considerable lapse of time and when any one in possession of the note would have had ample time and opportunity to take it away. The note was missed by him about 3½ p.m. and when the Police Inspector made a search in the Treasury in the presence of the Treasury Deputy Collector it was 5½ p.m.

5- This is not the only case in which this same Shroff Subroya Chetty has been involved, for on the 11th February 1875 when the Treasury balance was examined at the close of the days transactions, a deficiency of Rs 150 was discovered and the shroff attributed this to his having paid that sum in excess to some parties. Enquiries were then held and the then Collector Mr Wedderburn decided that the shroff made the overpayment through oversight. Subroya Chetti then made good the money.-

6- At the very best it was a very gross piece of carelessness and had the Collector known of it 10 months ago he would not have promoted Subroya Chetty.

7- Subroya Chetty will therefore revert to the post of 2nd Shroff which he formerly held and the other men who were promoted will revert to their respective former posts and the last man who was appointed Gallah will be dispensed with. His claims to a post will be taken into consideration at the next first vacancy.

8- Mr Cole informs the Collector that he was not aware when recommending him for promotion of what occurred in 1875 but the Cash keeper was and he must explain why he did not as was his duty inform the Treasury Officer or the Collector of it when Subroya Chetty's promotion was mentioned.

ACCOUNTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE
1 FEB 96
MADRAS

From,

Herbert Bradley Esquire,
Collector of Coimbatore,

To,

The Accountant General,
Madras.

Sir,

In returning herewith your letter No. $\frac{\text{A.D.K}}{385}$ of the 24th instant with all its enclosures, calling for further information in regard to the pension application of S. Subbaraya Chetty late 2nd Shroff of my office, I have the honor to reply as follows on the 3 points raised by you.

2- No. 1- The 16 days privilege leave referred to was not taken by the applicant for pension. It was taken by T. Subbaraya Chetty, 4th English Clerk on Rs 30.

The 10 days privilege leave taken by the applicant from the forenoon of 13th September 1875 has now been noted in the service Register as well as in the pension application.

3- No. 2- It ~~is~~ is a fact that S. Subbaraya Chetty was

was appointed permanently as Head Shroff on Rs 50 in the place of the permanent man who was retired with effect from 20th January 1883 - Vide Extract from the District Gazette for February 1883 sent herewith. Pending receipt of Government Sanction on the pension application the men appointed in that arrangement were not paid the full pay of the appointment but were only shown, as was usual then, as acting -

4 - No 3 - The Entry in the annual returns, from the year 1884 downwards, of 11th January 1884 as the date of the applicant's appointment as 2nd Shroff is clearly a clerical error for 3rd November 1883 and I find it difficult to trace out the origin of the mistake.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient Servant.
