Madras
10th April/96.

To

His Excellency the Right Honorable
The Governor in Council Fort St. George Thro' the Collector of Sea Customs, Madras and the Board of Revenue, Sep: Revenue Madras

The humble petition of C. Chocka-linga Mudr a retired clerk of the Sea Custom House, Madras.

Most Respectfully Sheweth,

That your Excellency's petitioner beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of the endorsement of Government (Count with Board's endorsement no. — dated 31/1/96 and the Sea Customs collector's endorsement no. 615 dated 3/2/96) respecting his petition praying, under the peculiar circumstances of his case therein represented, to be allowed a pension of one — Half of his last pay.

With reference to the above endorsement, your Excellency's petitioner very respectfully submits that he was all his life condemned by God to be penurious, that in that penurious state he was twice thrown out in the reduction

reduction of Establishment, that he was therefore obliged to draw the gratuity allowed him, with ^{the} sole object of living upon it and maintaining and educating his children with it when he was suddenly thrown out, and that, as the pay of his new appointment was exceedingly small, he was unable to refund the gratuity drawn.

Your Excellency's petitioner begs to add that his case is peculiarly hard, in as much as he feels confident in asserting that there would not be any one in the whole service, who could have lived so long as to be thrown out in two reductions and afterwards served a third time for eighteen long years, only to draw a small monthly pittance of Rs 7-8-4 which is hardly sufficient to maintain even the petitioner himself to say nothing of his family.

Your Excellency's petitioner therefore respectfully ventures to submit that the Government of India could not have anticipated a case like his & made provisions to meet it, for if they had done so, they would purely have.

to the effect of a petition... have made liberal concessions to meet such rare cases.
 Having served this benign Government faithfully and honestly for less than 34 years in the best part of his life and being unable to save any longer anywhere else to supplement his small pension, Your Excellency's petitioner feels greatly distressed to be informed that the request contained in his previous petition is "inadmissible under the rules". If he were not thus thrown out in the reduction, there would have been no occasion for him to draw any gratuity.
 Begging your Excellency's pardon for intruding again upon your excellency's valuable time, your Excellency's petitioner begs to submit that it is not any love of money but necessity - dire necessity, that has compelled him to approach your Excellency with this request again.

In these circumstances your Excellency's petitioner prays that his case may be reconsidered with reference to the unprecedented nature of his service and favourable orders passed at least as a special case with a monthly deduction of $\frac{1}{3}$ of his half pension for the next five years or until the gratuity drawn shall have been refunded. This will alleviate his present distress to some extent.

If your Excellency is unable to do this, he begs that his case may be submitted (with previous papers and with suitable recommendation) for the kind and charitable consideration of the Benign Government of India as he very intensely feels the keen want of even the common necessities of life in his declining years.

For this act of charity and grace your Excellency's petitioner shall in duty bound ever pray.
