SIR,

I have the honour to enquire whether an officer claiming a superannuation pension under Article 508 of the Civil Service Regulations for his superior service can under Article 436 of the Regulations also be granted a separate Invalid gratuity for his inferior service previously put in, although a medical certificate of the officer's unfitness for further service has not been obtained.

My predecessor has more than once ruled that such a claim should be 50p

I have supported by a medical certificate of incapacity for further service, unless the officer's age exceeds 60 years, and his view has not been challenged by the Local Government. I have accordingly accepted it in reporting on such cases, as they arise, but as it seems doubtful whether this view
is in accordance with the Regulations,
I refer the point. The last case in point was that of B. Narayana Rao late an amin in the District ~~Munsif's~~ ^{Munsif's} Court of Arizalur, Dindigul District, who in addition to 22 years Superior service had inferior service of over 6 years.
He is retiring on a Superannuation pension of Rs 6-1-10 and the question arose whether he ~~shall~~ ^{should} also have a gratuity of 30 rupees (3 months pay).
He would not be debarred under the last proviso of article 436, but as no medical certificate has been produced and he is under 60 years of age I have

have followed the previous practice of this office and not reported upon his claim for a gratuity.

Sir.

I am directed to refer to your letter N^o $\frac{La. 2}{493}$ dated 18th February last, in which you enquire whether an officer claiming a superannuation pension for his superior service under article 508 of the Civil Service Regulations can, under article 436, also be granted a separate invalid gratuity for inferior service previously rendered by him, without submitting a medical certificate of unfitness for further service.

2. In reply, I am to state that the fact that the circumstances connected with an officer's retirement would not allow the grant of a pension or gratuity were he in inferior service does not debar him from receiving, in addition to pension on the superior scale, a gratuity under article 436(b) of the Civil Service Regulations for previous inferior service.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

PENSION DEPARTMENT.

G.O., No. 166, Pension, dated 27th February 1896.

Read—the following papers :—

From the District Judge, Trichinopoly, dated 5th November 1895, No. 2354.

Certificate and report from the Accountant-General, dated 11th February 1896, No. A.D.J.—626.

Certified that should Government be pleased to admit the period of service noted in the margin claimed in the affidavit of the applicant on the evidence of contemporary employes (which is also verified from the records of this office) qualifying service in superior grades will be duly proved for twenty-two years, six months and sixteen days and a superannuation pension not exceeding Rs. 6-1-10 per mensem, equal to $\frac{2}{3}$ th average emoluments, will be admissible under articles 508 and 518 (b) of the Civil Service Regulations, Second Edition. The calculations have been duly verified.

It will be seen from the service history that the applicant, in addition to his service rendered in superior grades, served in inferior grades for a period of six years, eight months and seventeen days, viz., from 24th November 1864 to 10th August 1871, for which a separate gratuity of Rs. 30, equal to three months' pay, would have been admissible under article 436 of the Civil Service Regulations had he claimed it. But as he did not claim and has not sent a medical certificate, this office has not counted it for gratuity.

It is observed from the papers accompanying that the character and past conduct of the applicant have not been entirely satisfactory. It rests therefore with Government to make such reduction in the amount of pension that may be sanctioned to him as it may deem proper with reference to article 514 (b) of the regulations.

Order—No. 166, Pension, dated 27th February 1896.

Under articles 508 and 518 (b) of the Civil Service Regulations (Second Edition), the Right Honourable the Governor in Council is pleased to grant to Bhakrai Narayana Rao, late an Amin, District Munsif's Court, Ariyalur, a superannuation pension of Rs. (6) six per mensem, payable at Trichinopoly from 1st September 1895, in consideration of his qualifying superior service of twenty-two years, six months and sixteen days.

2. No gratuity can be granted to the applicant on account of his inferior service, because the claim is not supported by a medical certificate of incapacity for further service.

3. The full pension admissible under the rules has not been granted, as the applicant's character and conduct have not been thoroughly satisfactory.

READ—also the following letter from F. C. HARRISON, Esq., Officiating Accountant-General to the Government of Madras, to the Secretary to Government, Pension Department, dated 16th April 1896, No. 26-I.A.E.:

I have the honour to forward, for the information of Government, a copy of my letter, No. 493-I.A.E., dated the 18th February last, to the Government of India, and of their reply No. 1194-P., dated the 17th ultimo, and to state that, under the decision now given, this office will discontinue the practice of calling for a medical certificate of unfitness for further service in support of a claim to separate gratuity, for inferior service preferred by an officer retiring on a superannuation pension, under article 436 of the Civil Service Regulations.

ENCLOSURES.

From F. C. HARRISON, Esq., Officiating Accountant-General to the Government of Madras, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Financial Department, dated 18th February 1896, No. 493-I.A.E.

I have the honour to inquire whether an officer claiming a superannuation pension under article 508 of the Civil Service Regulations for his superior service can, under article 436 of the Regulations, also be granted a separate invalid gratuity for his inferior service previously put in, although a medical certificate of the officer's unfitness for further service has not been obtained.

My predecessor has more than once ruled that such a claim should be supported by a medical certificate of incapacity for further service, unless the officer's age exceeds sixty years; and his view has not been challenged by the Local Government. I have accordingly accepted it in reporting on such cases as they arise; but, as it seems doubtful whether this view is in accordance with the Regulations, I refer the point. The last case in point was that of B. Narayana Rao, late an amin in the District Munsif's Court of Ariyalur, Trichinopoly district, who, in addition to twenty-two years' superior service, had inferior service of over six years. He is retiring on a superannuation pension of Rs. 6-1-10, and the question arose whether he should also have a gratuity of 30 rupees (3 months' pay). He would not be debarred under the last proviso of article 436, but as no medical certificate has been produced and he is under sixty years of age, I have followed the previous practice of this office and not reported upon his claim for a gratuity.

From R. NATHAN, Esq., Officiating Under Secretary to the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department, to the Accountant-General, Madras, dated Calcutta, the 17th March 1896, No. 1194-P.

I am directed to refer to your letter No. 493-I.A.E., dated 18th February last, in which you inquire whether an officer claiming a superannuation pension for his superior service under article 508 of the Civil Service Regulations can, under article 436, also be granted a separate invalid gratuity for inferior service previously rendered by him, without submitting a medical certificate of unfitness for further service.

2. In reply, I am to state that the fact that the circumstances connected with an officer's retirement would not allow the grant to him of a pension or gratuity were he in inferior service does not debar him from receiving, in addition to pension on the superior scale, a gratuity under article 436(b) of the Civil Service Regulations for previous inferior service.

In view of the ruling contained in Mr. Nathan's letter, dated 17th March 1896, to the address of the Accountant-General, B.
