The undersigned is a Constable in the 1st Class Constable in 42 Muhammad Asim Sahib of Kalligady Station. A Division is charged by his superior with having delayed the service of certain assessors summonses through wilful disobedience of orders and culpable neglect of duty on 26th January 1896.
 On 26th January 1896, this Constable came through to Tirumangalam Cusab from Kalligady Station. At Tirumangalam on the same day he was entrusted with certain assessors summonses made returnable at Madurai on 2nd February 1896. Instead of taking the said summonses to his station, he took them and his beat book by a private person who delivered them to the Kalligady Railway orderly who gave them in charge Constable No 74 who in his turn placed them in the Police Gazette file where they were accidentally discovered on 1st February 1896 by Constable No 496.
 The Constable says he came to Tirumangalam on 26th January 1896 and as he suffered from pain in his legs, he stayed there. On the morning of 27th he says he received the summonses and then says that he had not time to catch the train, he gave them and his beat book to his nephew with instructions to hand them over to the

Defaulter Order No 60
 1st Class Constable in 42 Muhammad Asim

 Kalligady

Kalligudy Railway Constable and the Constable returned on foot to Kalligudy where he reached at 11 A.M. when Railway Constable told him he had received the papers and handed them to No. 74.

The Constable's explanation is not entirely true and if it were so, it in no way exonerates him. If there was time for his nephew to catch the train, there was also the more time for him to do the same. If sick, he should have reported the matter at once unless other arrangements would have been made. He really stopped at Sirmangalam to witness the fallouts.

The Judge has frequently complained of the delay which occurs in the service of summonses and as warnings seem to have no effect, I must take immediate measures to have hitherto to ensure work being properly performed.

1st Class Constable No. 42 is awarded a black mark and reduced to 2nd class Constable having been found guilty of the offence he has been charged with.
