P.T.O.

Para 5(3), Pension Rules.

Note

18.2.96

This is a hard case; but the only ground for refusing to apply para 5(3) is that he has now quoted three precedents. The P.M. with 1 encl. wherein } analogous cases in which special pensions were granted; these were not quoted in the previous petition.

It is open to Govt. to address the Govt. of India again with the remark that the inequality of treatment pointed out by the memorialist appears to justify a reconsideration of his case.

Note

Please see letter to India 8.20/8.26.2.95 and copy of India's reply to it to the Secy. Genl. marked with tape in this current. India has declined to sanction the increased pension recommended; & the present paper does not contain any new facts for a reconsideration. Hence draft order for approval.

18.1.96 India deals with each case on its merits & has rejected this. - The Secy.

Delegation was in 1894. I think it was in that year that India was first given the independent policy. In such cases this is the rule up to that time was following - This was a precedent on a hearing.
