To,

Sir,

I have the honor to request you to lay before His Excellency the Governor in Council this my respectful application for exemption from personal appearance before the Disbursing officer at Tellicherry to receive my pension.
Considering the high position I once held in the Service and the irksomeness of attending month by month before the accountant of the Kottayam Taluk at Tellicherry, always a busy official and waiting for his convenience to take payment, I respectfully and earnestly pray that the Governor ^{in Council} will be pleased to accord to me exemption from personal appearance contemplated in Section 1027 of the Civil Service Regulations.

I beg to append a history of my services
I have the honor to be

Sir
Your most obedient servant.

EDIVALAT KAKAT KRISHNAN, B. L., (Born 5th June, 1841). English writer in the Civil Court, Tellicherry, from 9th March, 1861, to 8th May, 1864; Malayalam Translator in the High Court of Madras, from 9th May, 1864, to 2nd January, 1870; Sheristadar, Civil Court, Tellicherry, from 2nd to 6th January, 1870; District Munsiff of Kawai, North Malabar, from 7th January, 1870, to 4th August, 1873; District Munsiff of Tellicherry, from 5th August, 1873, to December, 1883; Sub-Judge, Tinnevely, from 1st October to 5th November, 1883; Sub-Judge, Calicut, South Malabar, from 7th January, 1884, to December, 1892; 1st Grade Judge, Palghat, 2nd December, 1892, to 6th June, 1896.

TESTIMONIALS, &c.

KAKAT KRISHNAN has studied in the Government Provincial School at Calicut for about five years, of which the last two were passed in the highest class. During this period he has always shown the greatest interest in his studies; has repeatedly received Prizes at the Annual Distributions, and at the time of leaving the School held the Junior Conolly Scholarship. I consider him the best English Scholar of all the Natives who have hitherto left the School: he has read many works quite unconnected with the ordinary course of school study, and has obtained thereby a good deal of general information. His conduct in the school has been uniformly excellent, and I sincerely trust that the high character which he has so fairly won here, and to which it gives me great pleasure to witness, will be fully maintained in the more trying position in which he is now placed.
