SUBJECT.

Letter from Mr. Thornhill, Pension. Mr. Thornhill entered the Govt. service in the Madras Survey Dept. on the 17 May 1882 and was thrown out of employ on the 31 March 1897 on the abolition of his appointment. So his total Service on the 1st April 1897, amounted to 14 yrs. 10 ms.

14 yrs. In his petition dated 4 June 1897 he said that if his retirement took effect from the 12 May 1897 instead from the 1st April 1897, he would be eligible for a concession of $\frac{14}{60}$ of his salary, and accordingly requested that the deficiency of 6 weeks from the 1st April might be condoned; but he was informed that his request was admissible. He now repeats his request and says that on about the 12 May 1897 he shall have 15 years' total service and that, if the period between the 1st April 1897 and May 1897 be condoned, he would be eligible for the concession allowed by art. 445 A, C.S.R., viz. of counting towards service one year's furlough in addition to the total pensionable service of 12 yrs. 5 ms. + 3 dys. The Supt. Rev. Survey says that Mr Thornhill was an exceptionally good officer and that deserves any favourable consideration which may be possible.

Acct. Genl. however, remarks that, as Mr Thornhill's total service is 1 month + 16 days less than 15 years' service - the period required to be put in by an officer before he claims concession under art. 445 A of the C.S.R., and that as condonation of the deficiency under art. 465 A, will give Mr Thornhill the benefit of the concession allowed under art. 445 A, his request cannot be complied with under the rules.

As Mr Thornhill has already been recommended by the Govt. of India for the deficiency of 6 months of service in his service to make up 15 years' service of service, so that he may be granted the concession of Rs 170-5-8 admissible to him thereby, submitted that this current may be

This is the important point. The condonation of a deficiency will not turn that deficiency into service for the purpose of concession based on the term of service. It is a great pity Mr Thornhill was not allowed to stay till May 12th.

Yes it was. And so ought to have been stated.

I have the honour to inform that I should have written in my letter referred to in the above G.O.
"I shall have 15 years total service (not 13 years pensionable service) on or about 12th May 1897."

If the Madras Government would do me the favour of condoning the period between April & May as provided for in the C.S. Regulations I should be eligible for the concession granted in Article 445-A C.S.R. (viz the addition of one year furlough to the total pensionable service of 12-5-3)

Submitted. Mr. Thornhill having entered Government Service on the 17 May 1882, his whole service calculated up to the date of his retirement (31-3-97) amounts to 14 years - 10 months and 14 days or 1 month and 16 days less than 15 years, the period required to be put in by an officer before he can claim any concession under Article 445 A of the Civil Service Regulations. The condonation of a deficiency in qualifying service under Article 465 A will not give Mr. Thornhill the benefit of the concession granted by Article 445 A. His request cannot therefore be complied with under existing rules.

REFERENCE. Sir,

I have the honour to forward letter dated 17 August 1897 from Mr. Thornhill, late Deputy Superintendent, Madras Survey, in which he asks that Government may be pleased to reconsider order No. 3738 dated 20 July 1897 regarding the amount of his pension.

2. As the Government are aware,

Mr. Thornhill was an exceptionally good officer and deserves any favourable consideration which may be possible.
