Serango Station an inspection by Asst. Superintendent in September 1890 was found in a very unsatisfactory state. Every case of Horse breaking the night reported during the year remained undetected. Owing to sickness amongst the other Head Constables, this Head Constable for the greater part of the year was in charge. Since after time cases of theft and Horse breakings were reported, while he was at the station doing nothing and instead of going to enquire into them himself, he invariably placed himself in charge of the station guard and sent Constables to enquire. The man is worthless as a Head Constable. He takes no work and is sleepy. Early in the year he was suspended for 15 days. Before he could be got to enquire into a case, these district orders had to be sent to him to do so by the Asst. Superintendent. The man will not move if he can possibly help it, a good frame his Cam for table sent.

His excuse is that he once received a verbal order from Mr. Farnett to keep always at the station and Head
