SIR,

I have the honor to state that Retired Hospital Assistant Goroosamoy Royen was temporarily entertained for duty in the Medical Department in accordance with G.O. No. 724, Public, dated the 10th June 1897 that the Accountant General objects to pass his pay and allowances in addition to pension on the ground that the same exceeds his pay at the time of retirement. I therefore request that Government will be pleased to sanction the disbursement of the Hospital Assistant's pay and allowances in addition to pension in accordance with article 579 of the Civil Service Regulations and to authorize the Accountant-General to admit such claims in future.

I have the honor to be,

Your most obedient servant, submitted to Government with the following remarks:- Gurusami Royen who was granted an Invalid pension of Rs 27-8-a month under Government order No 638 dated 27 June 1897 drew the same up to 31 July 1897. From 13 September 1897 he has been temporarily reemployed in the Medical Department and the Surgeon General recommends that during such reemployment, the Hospital Assistant should be allowed the pay and allowances of his new post in addition to pension. The recommendation can be acceded to under Article 579 of the Civil Service Regulations, if the Government are satisfied that his employment is bona fide - temporary lasting for not more than a year. On enquiry the Surgeon General states that the appointment held by the Hospital Assistant fulfils the above conditions and that he was entertained in accordance with Government order

B No 724 Pub dated 10 June 1897. But it is necessary to point out that this order is not applicable to the case of pensioned Hospital Assistants, as it refers to private practitioners only.
With reference to the Surgeon General's request that a general authority may be granted to the Accountant General to admit such claims in future, the attention of Government is invited to Government Order No 533 dated 14 July 1897, Pension in which the Government refused to accede to a similar recommendation made by the Board of Revenue on behalf of collectors of districts.
