This constable was admitted for Gonorrhœa on 22-4-85 and was discharged cured on 5-5-85, & then he had an attack of Orchitis on 7-5-90 & was discharged on 12-5-90. Ever since this attack of Gonorrhœa he was not keeping good health. He suffered from Perineal abscess from 16-11-97 which gradually terminated in fistula Perineal. He was once admitted & treated in Hospital for this, but it reappeared & he now passes great quantity of urine through the openings in the perineum. He is in my opinion quite unfit for further service.

The Head Cond. says in his defence that the former Insp. told him he might keep these arms &c in the lines when all the Conds. were away on beat, & the station was in a jungly place & that the arms were filthy because he had had no cocoanut oil given him to clean them for three months; the late Insp. states that he did not give permission to this Head Cond. to keep the arms in the lines & even had he done so, the men were not all away, when they were found in the lines by the new Insp., but 2 or 3 Conds. as well as the Head Cond. were present. ~~It~~ that this Head Cond. never applied to him for cocoanut oil – had he done so it would have been supplied. In a grave case of attempting to commit murder when a woman was supposed to have given poison to her husband in his food, enquired into by this Head Constable on the 13 Augt at the village of Gopavaram, no entry was made in his crime register showing that enquiry he had made when the Insp. examined the crime register on the 20 Augt; 2 CC No 601 Confirms the Inspectors statement and says that on the 20th nothing but what was contained in the village magistrate's report - original report of the crime was entered in the crime register & that he subsequently wrote it up on the dictation of the Head Cond. The Head Conds defence is that it was all written up and that the Insp. falsely says it was not; because he - the Head Cond. wrote a petition against the Insp: this is doubly false as the petition is dated the 8 Sept. or some days after the Insp. brought this Head Conds neglect to notice. 2ndly The attempt to commit murder occurred on the night of the 11 Augt in almost the first house the beat Cond. would pass on going into the village; this Head Cond. visited the village on beat duty on the 12th & failed to learn anything about the crime having been committed his excuse is that the village magt & villagers with with whom he conversed told him nothing of it. But on magte's enquiry it was shown that the Complainant had told the 2nd 3rd & 4th witnesses all about it, and the news must have been known and if the Head Const. had exerted himself at all he would have found out all about it. 3rdly He stated on oath before the magte. that he visited the village at 7 a.m. on the 12 Augt whereas he was proved by the village magte's evidence not to have gone there till 2 P.m.; his object in giving this false hour apparently was to screen his neglect in not having heard of the crime. if indeed he did not hear of it as he would have been he supposed less likely to have heard of its Commission by 7. a.m. than by 2. P.m. (4) The Committing magte. reports him not only to have spoilt the case to some extent but also to have been favourably disposed towards the prisoner & also for the following irregularities (1) Omitting to mention in the occurrence report that the Complainant had suffered from purgings after ~~partiking~~ partaking of the food given to him by defendant = a most important Omission in a case of attempt at murder by poisoning - 2ndly did not bringing his note book - 3rdly with not having properly written up his note book when it was produced: his explanation is that when he wrote his Occurrence report he knew nothing of the purgings. This tends to show how imperfect his enquiry was in a grave case; that he recollected all the facts so well that he did not require to take his note book to Court. 3 That he had not been supplied with a regular note book (though there are plenty at his Cusbah 6 miles off available for issue if he wanted one) & so had stitched a few loose papers together to make a note book. (5) The Insp. ordered him in person to go to the scene of crime on the 16th Augt & collect further evidence this he failed to do, and the Insp. found him present in the station on that day. His excuse for this disobedience is that he intended going after the Insp. left his station. From the man's general apathy & neglect throughout the case it seems that the magte. is right when he concludes that the Head Const's object was to get the prisoner off. (6) His beat-books from 5 Augt were found not to have entered the numbers of the Consts. met on beat. The books did not agree with the rosters &c. 1 G.H.Const. Shaikh Jamal of Barul who examined them with the Insp. testifies to this. This is a point about which he was specially warned by the Supdt. in June last, who found his & the ~~neighb~~ neighbouring station beats neglected & false entries made in the records. (7) Ordered by his Insp. to send in a referred charge sheet on the 12th Augt in a case of house-breaking, he failed to do so by the 20th, his explanation is that he had prepared a rough draft & was going to make a ~~fa~~ fair copy. This is absurd as firstly ~~[illegible]~~ it does not account for the delay. 2ndly no rough draft could possibly be required as he had only to copy out the crime register entry. (8) This man was reduced for 3 months for having his arms & station not dirty but filthy in April last. On the Supdt. visiting the station in June he found detection bad Dacoity, robbery of recent occurrence not only undetected but apparently ~~[illegible]~~ taken no trouble about by this Station House officer whose action had been very feeble: men grossly ignorant, apparently untaught: arms dirty – beats neglected & the meetings with Hoblum all nearly false: arms still dirty. The Supdt. then told this Head Const. that he had had his chance, & that unless he showed improvement, he would be permanently reduced. His Station work throughout proved him to be thoroughly lazy and his conduct in the above case raises a great suspicion of his honesty. The man has no energy & is quite unable to control, check, or teach his men, & what he can do viz: write. He is too lazy to do. I from personal inspection of his work and I gave him a chance of repenting and a warning too) Consider him quite unfit to be a Head Constable.

Occurrence

Minute, reducing 1st class Constable No 930 Seddappah to 2nd class Constable from. 6.2.82

1st class Constable No 930 was sentry on the night of the 5th January on the subsidiary jail at Badvel & on the morning of the 6th should have been present there to escort prisoners to their food &c. He absented himself from 6 a.m to 4 p.m that date & can give no reasonable explanation for his absence. 2ndly. As he had done no duty on this date he was told of in the evening to accompany a wandering gang. this he failed to do. his explanation for this 2nd act of neglect before his sub Inspector was that he had pains in his feet, but before the Superintendent he stated that the station writer failed to supply him with a gang form & therefore therefore he was unable to go with it. On the 15th of January he was absent from station class & is reported to have frequently absented himself from that duty also, for this he can give no explanation. He was reduced from Head Constable only a few months ago for repeatedly neglecting his work. He was subsequently fined by the Magistrate for preferring a false charge against his Inspector. He is now therefore given one more chance by being reduced only to 2nd class Constl. He is at the same time warned that if he should be again reported for disobedience of orders & refused to do the duty to which he has been appointed, that he will be dismissed the service

1st class Const. No. 930 Siddappah is awarded 1 black mark for absence from Treasury guard and reduced to 2nd class Constable from 1st July/90 under the black mark system.

On 11-6-90 this man was the second sentry on the Treasury guard at Pulivendla. No men are allowed to leave the guard after sun set but this man absented himself from 6 to 9 P.M. and when it came to his turn for sentry duty at 8 P.M. he was absent and did not return till 9. P.M. for which he was awarded one black mark & reduced under the black mark system. In his defence he says "I went for meals and as soon as I had my food I felt some pain in my stomach & vomitted & then came to my duty in right time. It is proved by the statements of 1st G. & Const. No. 834, 4th H.C. No. 93 and Consts. Nos. 286, 889, 497 & 98 that No. 930 was absent.

His two previous defaulter entries are

26-4-90. Absence for 3 hours from sentry & waiting duty & telling lies in his defence. to forfeit 1 days pay & awarded 1 black mark.

27-5-90. Absence for 10 days, to forfeit 10 days pay & awarded one black mark.

This man has already 22 entries in his defaulter sheet and more than half [illegible] fine [illegible] for absence from duty. In the present case I decide to award him a black mark and to reduce him to 2nd Class Const. from 1st instant under the black mark system.
