CERTIFICATE AND REPORT OF THE AUDIT OFFICER (1).

Verified that qualifying service in Superior posts has been duly proved for 39 years 9 months & 4 days and that a retiring pension not exceeding Rs 416.10-8 per annum equal to 30% the average emoluments but not limited to the maximum under article 578(b) is admissible under articles 509 & 578(b) of the Civil Service Regulations 3rd Edition.

Officer's entry No 8 on the 1st page of the application Rs 600/- per annum is entered at the amount of proposed pension. Explaining this amount Mr. Goudo considers that his appointment as Superintendent Madras Survey should be ranked with Surveyor General mentioned in article 519 as is done in Article 1174 (b) for the purposes of travelling allowances, and that it is not inferior to that of Inspector General of Registration or Conservator of Forests. If Govt consider this view of the case should be taken, the sanction of the Secretary of State to the grant of the increased rate of pension will be necessary under Article 1005 of the Regulations, and the Resolution of the Govt of India No 3842 (dated 1 September 98) Finance & Commerce Dept.

In accordance with rule 3 under article 994 (b) the attention of Govt is respectfully invited to art 514 of the Regulations.

 Letter from the Supdt. Madras Survey 2/13.3.99 No. $\frac{83}{A}$
 C.A.R. from the A.G. Dated 23rd March - 1899, No. $\frac{A.25}{517}$

FOR ORDERS.

Mr. Cardozo is eligible for a retiring pension of Rs.5,000 per annum for his qualifying superior service of 39 years and odd, under Articles 509 and 518 (b) of the Civil Service Regulations. He, however, requests that he may be given a special pension of Rs.7,000 per annum, if the Government considers that his services have been of extraordinary merit. He says:

(1) that he entered the service in March 1859,

(2) that the maximum pension for uncovenanted officers, pay more than Rs.1,000 a month, was £.500 a year or at the present rate of exchange about Rs.7,500, and

(3) that Mr. Walch, who entered the service in March 1866, seven years after he

he did, and ^{returned} in April 1893, was granted a special pension of Rs.7,000 per annum.

It is submitted that there is ^{technical} no analogy between Mr. Cardozo's case and that of Mr. Walch. Mr. Walch served as Chief Engineer of the Public Works Department for three years and was therefore granted a special additional pension of Rs.2,000 per annum by the Government of India under Article 714 of the Civil Service Regulations - G.O. No.1011, dated 10th September 1893, Pension. Further, in the case of Mr. Gompertz, disposed of by G.O. No.849, Pension, dated 9th August 1893, the Government of India has distinctly stated that 'Officers who entered the service when the former pension rules were in force have no claim to a pension of half average emoluments exceeding Rs.5,000 a year and that it is only in cases in which the service has been of "Extraordinary merit" that pensions higher than Rs.5,000 a year are allowed.'

An additional pension of Rs.1,000 a year is, however, allowed under Article 519 of the Civil Service Regulations to officers of certain departments, provided they have rendered not less than 3 years of effective service in such appointments and provided also that in each case, during such service the officer has shown such special energy and efficiency as may be considered deserving of the concession.

In this list, the Surveyor-General of the Survey Department is only mentioned.

23
Mr. Cardozo, however, represents that for the purposes of travelling allowances the Superintendent, Madras Survey, ranks with the Surveyor-General and that he ranks above, and draws higher pay than, the Inspector-General of Registration and the Conservator of Forests. Mr. Cardozo's claim to a pension of Rs.6,000 per annum proposed in the pension application seems inadmissible, as the Superintendent Madras Survey has not been included in the list mentioned in Article 519 of the Civil Service Regulations.

Mr. Cardozo's efficient and valuable services in administering the Survey Department having, however, been repeatedly acknowledged by this Government and the Government of India, they may, perhaps, be viewed as of an extraordinary character and deserving of special treatment; in which event, he may, it is submitted, be recommended for a special pension of Rs.6,000 per annum in lieu of the pension of Rs.5,000 which may now be sanctioned by this Government.
