From the effects of bad legs and general ill health under which I have been labouring for some years, independent of impaired vision & failure of memory & experience since some time, I find myself quite unequal to the performance ^{of the} arduous duties of my responsible post as an Auditor in this office. Under these circumstances, I am induced to seek a retired life, which I beg most respectfully to request your Honor will graciously be pleased to secure to me, by kindly recommending me for the boon of a superannuation Pension, that I am entitled to, under the regulations of the service. The services rendered by me in the Audit Office extend to a period of nearly 31 years, during which, as your Honor is aware, I have had charge of different important Accounts.

I beg to remain
Honored Sir
Your most obedient
& humble servant
